Vehicles ignore signs

To the Editor:

I am writing in regard to what I consider to be a very dangerous situation.

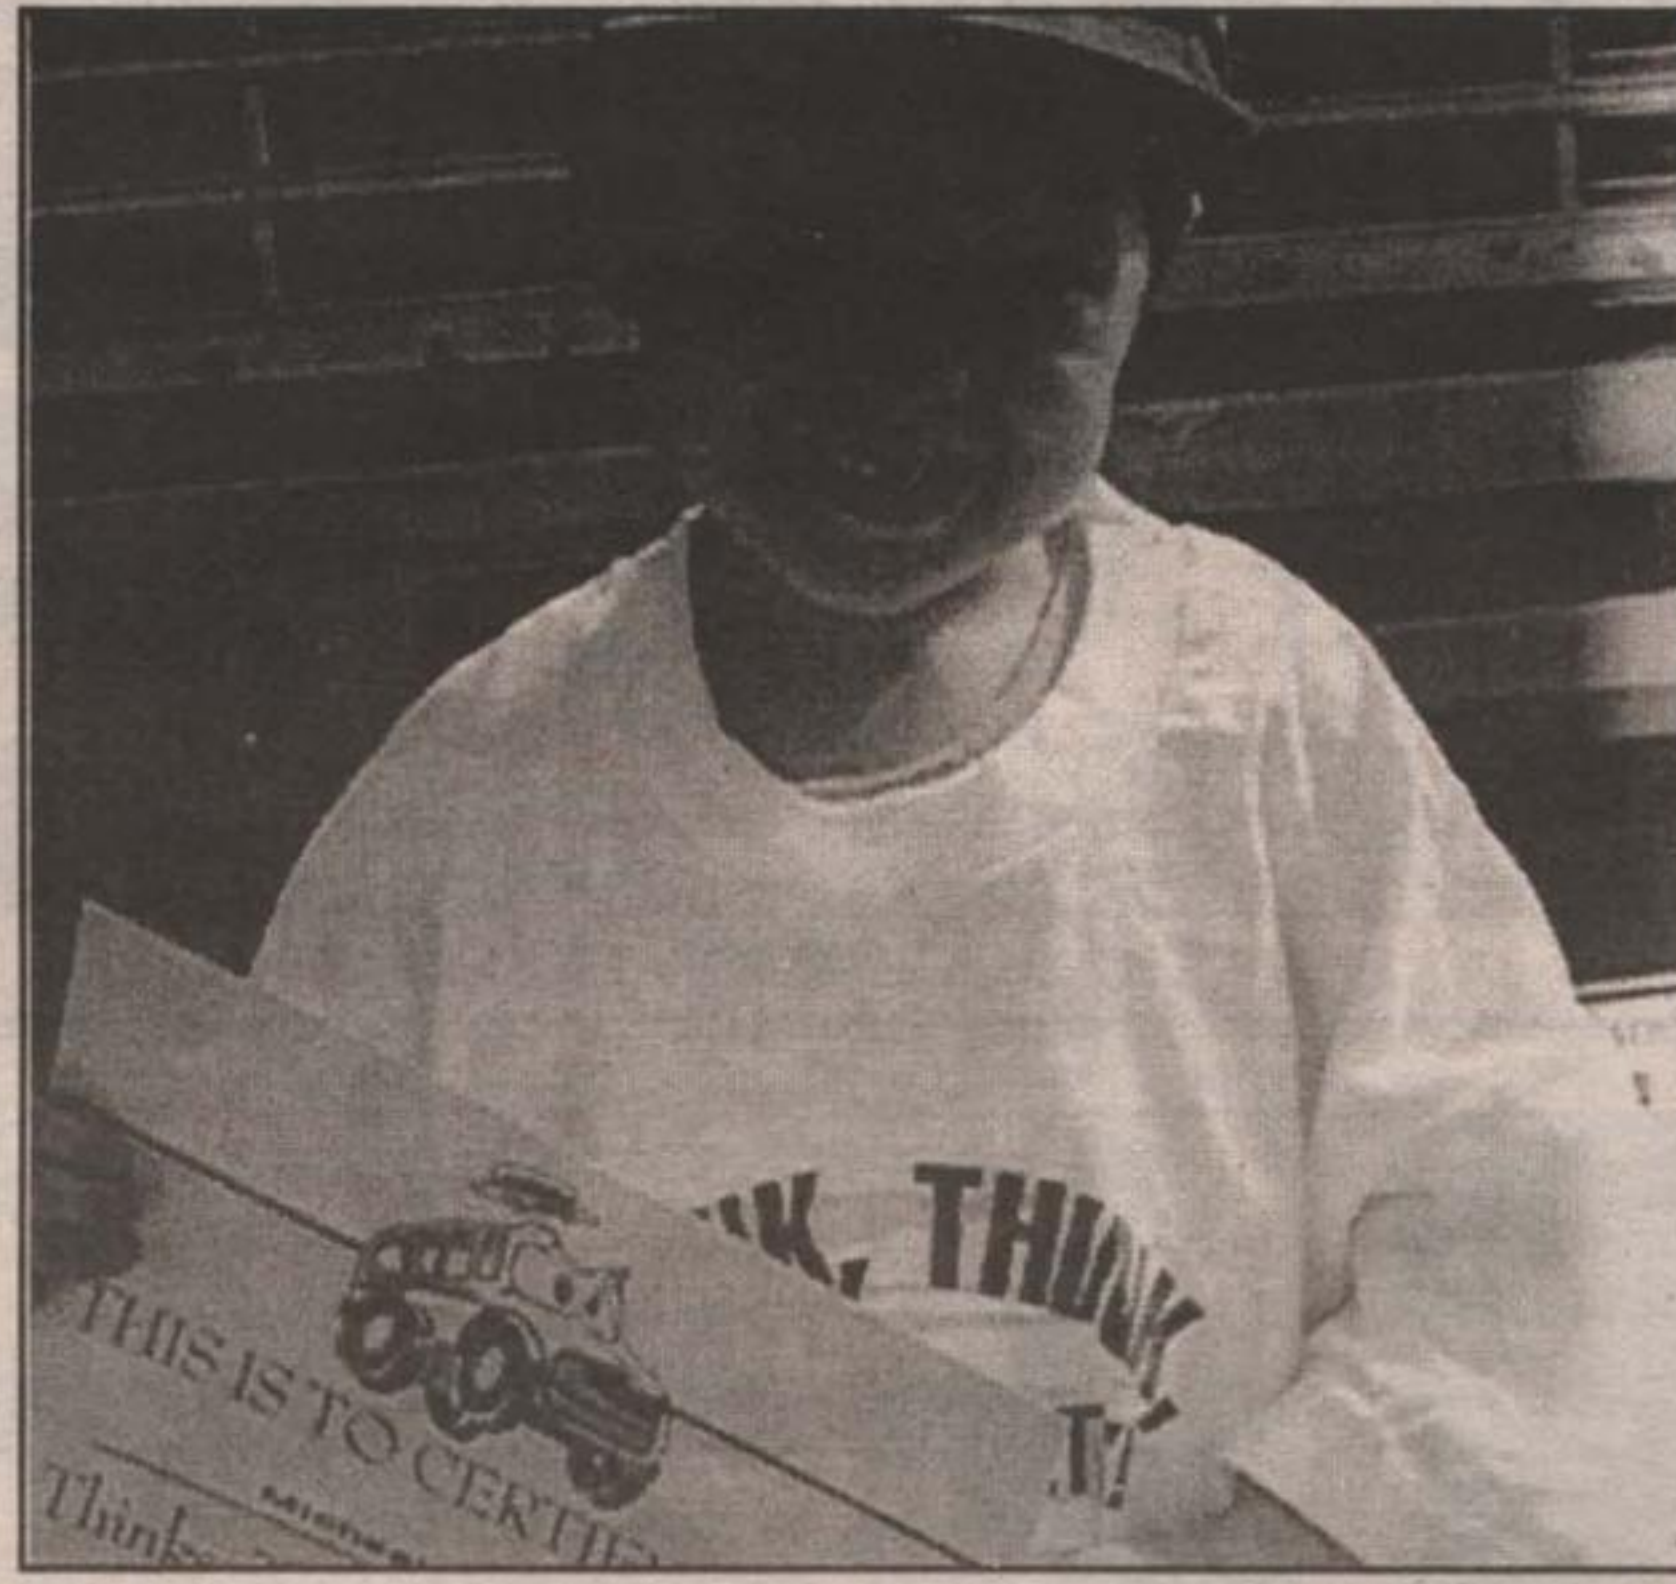

The street I live on, Church Street, is made up of strictly residential. It is not a highway. But you would never know that by the way big tractor trailers go by all day long.

To make things even worse, every day a huge tanker carrying molten sulphur comes down our street. This terrifies me. At the corner of Wilbur and Church Streets is an "all way" stop sign. Our apartment building's main entrance is right there. I cannot count the vehicles that completely ignore this stop sign.

God forbid if this molten sulphur carrier ever gets into an accident. There must be something done immediately to prevent such a catastrophe.

There should be no large trucks allowed on this residential street.

Literacy Day Sept. 8

September 8 is International Literacy Day - a day when the ability to read and write well is celebrated, and when citizens in communities across Canada and in other countries will focus on the importance of literacy in their everyday lives.

What can you do to promote literacy in your home, work and family life?

Help support community Literacy Programs. Volunteer as a tutor, make a donation or seek further information on how you might become involved in helping adults to improve their skills.

Help other adults learn to read. Encourage others to improve their literacy skills.

Plain language. If you or your organization produces written materials of any type, use plain language to express your points.

Be aware of the importance of reading and writing in your own life. Read as much as possible.

Read to children. Early childhood experience at home with books and with reading is more important than almost any factor to a child's future success in reading and in school.

Your local community non profit adult literacy program is the Read * Spell * Write program for Adults run by the North Halton Literacy Guild. This program serves Acton, Georgetown and Milton. Phone 873-2200 for further information.

"The Home of the Week" YOUR BUILDING EXPERTS

At 38' wide by 49'-6", this home will fit on a variety of today's smaller lots. The living space has been arranged to provide a comfortable and spacious environment in a relatively low square footage.

Enter into a foyer brightened by an overhead window. An open plan for the living and dining room creates a large area for formal entertaining which features a vaulted ceiling and boxed out window seat in the living room.

The kitchen offers a practical U-shaped work area with plenty of cupboard and counter space, a pantry and a handy work island. The family room, open to the nook and kitchen, provides a comfortable area for informal gatherings and features a cosy gas fireplace. The den, set apart from the main traffic areas, would make an ideal study room or library.

Upstairs, the master boasts a three piece ensuite and a walk-in closet. The games room, with the addition of a closet, could be used as a fifth bedroom, and features a vaulted ceiling and a boxed out window seat.

Plans for AT01900B may be obtained for $495 for a package of five complete sets of working prints and $45 for each additional set of the same plan. Allow $15 extra to cover the cost of postage and handling (Add 7% GST to plan total plus postage and handling).

This is one of our new designs. Many innovative plans are now available in our home plan catalogue for $13.85 including postage and handling and 7% GST. Please make all cheques, money orders, and Visa authorizations payable to:
