Rural speed limit

Continued from Page 6 said they will wait until after some road straightening and repairs are complete this fall before reassessing the speed.

Town traffic co-ordinator Bob Butrym noted that the posted speed limit doesn't have much impact on how fast or slow people drive.

"People drive at a speed they feel comfortable at with existing conditions, including the condition of the road, the weather and the amount of interaction they see with either people pulling out of driveways or walking along the side of the road," Butrym explained in an interview on Friday, adding that the threat of enforcement also plays a role in their speed.

A radar check on the Third Line North in September, where the new speed is 70 km/h, found that the average speed was 89.9 km/h.

More staff needed

With approximately 900 Town bylaw infraction charges pending, Ward 2 Councillor Kevin Kuiack wants to know how staff intends to deal with the huge backlog. He also wants to know just how old is the oldest one on the books.

Henry Tse, the Town's Director of Building, Zoning and Enforcement Services said he'd get the information and reminded councillors that each year the department asks for additional staff, but money has gone to higher priority issues.

Kuiack said if the Town should be prepared to follow through with action if one of its bylaws is broken.

In the past the Town wiped hundreds of infractions off the books leading Georgetown councillor Ron Chatten to remind staff that he's asked for a breakdown of the cases and adding that "once we have that, we'll throw out half of them (the pending charges) and have a change."

You know it's time to shop

One of the first real events to signal the holiday season is Acton's Santa Claus parade, organized annually by the Acton Fire Fighters Association. This parade will be Saturday, Nov.21 from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m. and Town council recently approved closing the parade route - Acton Boulevard, Queen Street, Young Street, Mill Street Main Street and Knox Street to Prospect Park for the popular event.
