

WE'RE OPEN: When it came to sawing the board to officially open the new Home Store adjacent to Zions Construction on Main Street North last weekend, the whole family including staff members and their families, got into the act along with the politicians. - Maggie Petrushevsky photo

OBITUARY

Family was Marjory Kirkwood's life

Marjorie Sara Bernice Kirkwood died April 5, 2000 in Georgetown District Memorial Hospital following a massive heart attack.

Her family was the centre of Marjorie's life and everything she did was done in their interest.

One of Edward and Mary Harris' six children, Marjorie was born May 10, 1922 on a Caledon area farm. Her schooling began in a one-room rural school. She took her teacher training in Toronto, then taught for the Toronto School Board for two years.

Since she lost her father when she was five and her mother shortly after beginning her teaching career, she returned to help her brother on the family farm.

She married her husband Harvey Kirkwood in 1946 and they began farming on the Tenth Line of Erin Township, before moving to the Eighth Line of Erin and finally to the Third Line south of Acton in 1951. She began working at the Acton Post Office in 1963, then transferred to Georgetown until her retirement in 1987.

She was a founding member of P.O.W.E.R. (Protect Our Water and Environmental Resources) in their opposition to a proposed dump at the Acton quarry and acted as the group's treasurer for 10 years.

She loved her garden and family and friends often enjoyed gifts from it.

One of her proudest achievements was successfully arguing a case for subdividing six lots off the family farm before the Ontario Municipal Board. This allowed her children to live close enough to help each other in various ways through the years.

Marjorie and Harvey attended Acton's Trinity United Church for nearly 30 years.

Marjorie leaves her husband of 53 years, Harvey Kirkwood, and children Marilyn and Bill Coxe of Milton, Lois Osborne of Georgetown, and Thelma and Nigel Pettipher, Ruth and Wayne French, and John and Helen Kirkwood all of R.R. 4, Acton. She also leaves her brothers Jack and Herb, and sisters Jean Harris and Vera Hindley.

She is also survived by 17 great grandchildren and one great grandson.

She was predeceased by her daughter Linda (1979), her son-in-law Bert Osborne (1999), her sister Elizabeth Fitzpatrick (1969) and her parents.

A funeral service for Marjorie was held at J.S. Jones and Son Funeral Home, Georgetown followed by interment at Georgetown's Greenwood Cemetery.
