Sasek has taken the team - also known as Acton Yaks - to an 8 and 2 season and earned the respect of his players and their parents.

Club head coach Chuck Tysoe said Sasek - armed with glowing references from parents of previous players - started with an in-door rep winter team.

"Martin has the combination of coaching ability, organization ability and time to coach a rep team. He sets high standards for the kids in terms of commitment and work ethic and when you watch this team play, they are well disciplined and have great team spirit," Tysoe said.

Second annual boxla tourney this weekend

The town can expect an influx of up to 3,000 visitors this weekend for the second annual Bulldog (Lacrosse) Classic for players aged four to nine.

Hosted by the Halton Hills Minor Lacrosse Association, the tournament will be played in the Acton arena and both Georgetown arenas, says tourney director Douglas Wellington.

A total of 38 teams from across Ontario, including five local teams, will participate. Games start Friday night and continue throughout Saturday and Sunday.

Five final games will be played in the Alcott arena between 2 and 7 p.m. Sunday to decide champions in each of the paperweight, tyke and novice division. The two older groups have been split into tyke 1 and 2 divisions as well as novice 1 and 2.

Wellington says the four top teams in novice division will be participating, including the Halton Hills rep team. These teams are to meet in Provincial competition next weekend so he predicts this tournament will be "very competitive" and great for spectators.
