

Fall, winter fashions of St. Alban's show

COOL WEATHER: Sally Miller hikes up her poncho to show off the accompanying tapestry vest, blue turtleneck and black wool slacks.

BABY BUNNY: Ashley Cole tucked a cuddly bunny under her arm as she headed off for dreamland in beige fleece pyjamas.

TOP HAT: Mary Anderson in black wool slacks, embroidered cotton blouse, Dalmatian-trimmed vest and bowler.

STYLISH LADY: Sally Miller could entertain her family or head for the office in her button-up denim skirt and matching vest.

DAPPER DRESSER: Gloria Vermeulen beige gabardine slacks, cotton shirt, lined chenille sweater and brown and felt boater.

LETTERS

Dear editor,

Through the medium of this newspaper I would like to thank all those who helped make FASday a success on September 9. The churches who rang their bells and said prayers for those living with fetal alcohol syndrome, Heritage Acton for ringing the Acton Town Hall bell, the friends who made donations to Fetal Alcohol Support Network (Toronto and Peel), who came to Toronto on Saturday for the event held there, and who have supported our family along our journey with FAS.

Thank you also to this newspaper who printed an article highlighting the dangers of alcohol during pregnancy, and Maggie Petrushevsky for the editorial. The FASday committee were thrilled!

My final message this year is that if you are pregnant, or there is a possibility you are pregnant, PLEASE do not drink alcohol. If you think you may already be living with a child or adult with FAS, please call 853-3265 or email shionaw@stn.net.

Yours sincerely,
Shiona Watson

IT'S GORGEOUS! Betty Cole can't believe how perfectly the coppery two piece printed silk outfit suits her granddaughter, Ashley Cole.

NIGHT, NIGHT: Mary Anderson thought the black velvet lounging robe printed with pick flowers would make a terrific item for sitting around watching TV

PYJAMA PARTY: Who says the giggles go with the teenage years? Susanne Keith and Gloria Vermeulen caught them as they headed for the runway with their teddies and their pyjamas, Gloria's in plum fleece and Susanne's in scarlet fleece with matching plaid pants.
