TOWN DIGEST

Fire stats

Service calls to the fire department were down by more than 50 per cent in July over the same month last year – a “good report” according to Acton Councillor Rick Bonnette, noting there were 35 calls for service in July compared to 73 in July, 1999.

Although Bonnette was impressed with the drop in service calls and fire damage, Mayor Marilyn Serjeantson tried to douse his enthusiasm, noting the picture won't look quite as bright because there have been “couple of fires this month.”

There have been 324 calls for service so far this year, compared to 389 at this time last year. Fires caused an estimated $85,000 damage in July compared to $360,000 last July.

There were also 14 false fire alarms in July, half of them alarm equipment malfunctions.

Condo convert?

Owners of the rental apartment building on Ransom Street have received a one-year extension of approval to convert the 31-unit building into a condominium.

In 1997, the building owner – Megna Real Estate – was given a three-year approval for its conversion application and was required to submit a draft plan of condominium before the time frame expired.

While the applicant has not filed the draft plan, Town staff supports the one-year extension, noting the applicant has been working on the conversion process under the Rental Housing Protection Act.
