Fresh ingredients, experienced attentive staff and a cosy atmosphere add up to a great dining experience at Tony Spiducci Italian Restaurant in the Grand Chalet Banquet Hall on Steeles Avenue in Milton.

Owned and operated by the DiBiase family, the facility, in the former Bavarian Chalet, features casual fine dining and banquet/catering facilities for up to 400 people.

Tony DiBiase calls the family-run restaurant, which seats 85, a "come-as-you-are," kind of place, serving wholesome Italian and continental food, made with the freshest of ingredients.

The restaurant's signature dish is Spiducci – the slang name for a lamb shish kabob, named after the DiBiase family's hometown in the Abruzzi region of Italy.

"My father, Tony, was the first one providing this dish in Toronto about 15 years ago and it's always been a favourite," Mike DiBiase said, adding they also specialize in traditional Italian dishes of pasta, veal, chicken and seafood.

The DiBiase family relocated their banquet/catering business to Milton last year from Mississauga and are attracting a steady clientele.

DiBiase said they pride themselves on offering com-
