Everton road maintenance goes to county

Guelph/Eramosa council has authorized its Manager of Public Works, Larry Van Wyck, to a contract with Wellington County to handle maintenance of County Road 49, south from old Highway 24 through the village of Everton on a time and materials basis.

Van Wyck told council that system means they can't lose money if they have a bad winter. Using a straight fee system, the costs might outstrip the pay if the winter is very bad, he warned.

Rob Gray and the staff at Rockwood TV are throwing an open house at Rockmosa Thursday from 5 to 10 p.m. to celebrate their 25th anniversary in business.

With displays and demonstrations by their suppliers, they are inviting customers, friends and the public in general to stop by, have some refreshments, maybe win a door prize and see what's available in the way of home entertainment equipment these days.

Rob Gray bought the business from his former employer in 1978 and set it up in the Rockwood Plaza, says staffer Carolyn Wingate. She joined him about a year later. Gray, Wingate and fellow staffer Tom Parkinson are all Eramosa Township natives.

While Wingate handles sales and office work, the men do the sales and installation, delivery and repairs.

The business has changed markedly since the beginning when they sold cabinet televisions and Beta sound systems, she says. Now it's plasma and big screen televisions, DVD players, home theatre systems, video cameras and portable CD players as well as microwaves and telephones.

Gray and Tom Parkinson also partner in the sales and professional installation of Bell ExpressVu dishes out of their store.

Unlike many of their competitors, they will do repairs, and can also advise customers on installing their home sound systems, she says.

Unlike the large chains and big box stores, customers are their priority and staff wants to offer a more personal feeling to their sales and service when customers drop in, Wingate says.

Gray also operates Rob's DJ service and sells Parkinson Gray maple syrup.
