

Capture thief on videotape

If you recognize this man, call Halton police.

Police released this photo, taken from a video surveillance camera, following a September 2 break-in at the Branch 197 of the Royal Canadian Legion in Acton.

The suspect forced open a side door and rummaged through the bar area, stealing a small amount of cash and Nevada raffle tickets and alcohol.

Anyone with information is asked to call Detective Andrews at 905-878-5511 Ext.2113.

One for the ditch
A 52-year-old Limehouse man was charged with impaired driving and having over 80-millilitres of alcohol in 100-millilitres of blood after driving his 1989 GMC truck into a rural ditch at 10:31 on Saturday night.

When police arrived at the 17 Side Road, just east of the Fourth Line, they found the driver still in his vehicle, showing obvious signs of impairment and no injuries.

He was arrested and taken to the police station where he failed breath tests and was charged. He is in court on January 27, 2004.

Acton needs doctors...

Health Professional Recruitment Tour at Queen's University.

In Acton, the doctors met with physicians at the Acton Medical Centre and toured the town before going to Milton.

Asked what it will take to find new general practitioners for Acton, Mayor Rick Bonnette, who has championed the search, said they might have to offer special incentives or inducements to attract doctors to Acton.

"It's something that we're going to have to address," Bonnette said on Monday, adding, "I'm not going to paint a dark cloud above Acton, because right now, Acton is one of the most positive places to go - that last small town in the GTA."

Bonnette said the Regional recruitment program has "put Acton on the map" with physicians, bringing at least 10 doctors on tours through the area.

Halton Hills has been designated as an under-served area for family physicians by the province, and based on the accepted physician-to-patient ratio of one family physician to 1,380 patients, Acton needs at least nine more family doctors and Halton needs 45 additional general practitioners.

Like Halton Hills, Milton was also designated as an under-served area, but in the past two years attracted enough physicians to work itself off that list. Because of the recent growth in Milton, it has filed another application for the under-served designation.
