Passport fee $15

An editorial in last week's New Tanner mentioned there was a $10 fee to fill out passport documents at the Acton post office which has been designated as a "passport receiving agency." A local post office official has notified The New Tanner that the fee is $15, not $10 as Canada Post declare in their press release.

The editorial stated that Milton post office has also been designated as a receiving agency but that's been put on hold until postal problems in Milton are cleared up.

Local postal officials said The New Tanner story on April 29 got results because at least 10 people have already applied for passports at the Acton facility.
