

Fun for all at Leathertown Festival...

it begins at 4:15 p.m.

At 2 p.m., Acton vet, Dr. Stephen Hess will have his work cut out for him as he judges the Pets on Parade contest and awards prizes to the owner of the pet that does the best trick, is the biggest, smallest, cutest and has the best costume.

All pets must be on a leash and no exotic pets are allowed.

The Kid's Zone activities also include a rock-climbing wall, portable skateboard park, soccer radar, hockey speed game, a bouncing jungle hut and pony rides.

Entertainment on the kid's stage includes Princess Karma and Doug Barr, whose songs have been performed by Mr. Dress Up and Sharon, Lois and Bram.

Bonnette said some downtown merchants have been generous in donating gift certificates and products to award as prizes, including Godfather's Pizza, Blue Springs Spa and Salon, Sobey's and the Town.

Organizers have been told to expect as many as 100 classic car owners who will be preening and polishing their rides for a car show that will be angle parked all along Willow Street.

Thousands jammed downtown last year.

chine, most of the prep work for the festival is done – the entertainment, port-a-potties, chairs, picnic tables, police and vendors are booked.

Now, the committee of roughly a dozen volunteers is sweating the small stuff – do we have a pipe to for the opening ceremony, is the advertising booked, when can we mark the vendors' areas on the street, where are last year's T-shirts and can we get more helpers?

If anyone would like to help at Sunday's festival, call the BIA office 853-9555.
