

Two 75th donation awards

Blood clinic collects 210 units

By GERALD PURDY
Special to The Independent/Free Press

Red Cross officials reported 220 donors attended the blood clinic held Monday, February 13, at Holy Cross Church and donated 210 units of blood. This clinic was sponsored by the Georgetown Optimist Club. Their help in poster distribution, setup of the clinic, help in loading equipment and general assistance was greatly appreciated.

Thanks to Dr. A Ashenhurst who was on call, volunteers, staff, nursery help and drivers and the clergy, the clinic was very successful. Once again we are indebted to our regular contributors: Dairy Queen for juice and cups, Pizza Hut for tea and serviettes, Miracle Mart and Mac's Milk on Mountainview Road for Coca-Cola, and A&P for coffee. These people, along with the C.W.L. for their kitchen help at the clinic, are essential for the continued success of our Blood Donor Services.

Special thanks to the 35 volunteer phone crew who contacted our donors, to Shirley Chaplin for publicity and promotion and to Noreen Mieh and Betty Baker convenors of this clinic.

Clinic organizers would like to thank those who took the time to give the gift of life.

Donor Award and Recognition were given:

75 donor: Walma Rankin, John Sandier; 50 donor: John Clare, Alan Lahue, Chris Tgshow, Cecil A. Simpson, Gerald Allan; 35 donor: Nigel Phips, Peter Skaftev, Michele Westerveld, Violet Sears; 20 donor: Blake Edmunds, Les Bishop, Sandra Bowman, Robert Bishop, Betty McFarland, Frank Welling.

A special extra Saturday clinic will be held on March 4 at the Georgetown Marketplace from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The next regular clinic for Acton will be held on March 23, 5-8:30 p.m. and in Georgetown the next regular clinic will be held May 8.
