JET facility and staff are appreciated

The following letter was filed with this newspaper for publication.

Mr. Tom Shepherd,
Parks & Rec Dept.

Dear Tom:

The 5th annual Vaudeville Show for the Canadian Cancer Society was a great success. The Georgetown Branch realized proceeds of over $6000 as a result of sold out audiences Friday and Saturday evenings.

One of the really nice things about this production was that many young Halton Hills performers were able to show their talents on a Georgetown stage. Performers Edgar Thatcher (producer-Men Without Hairs); Paul Thompson (music director-trumpet); Adam Broughton (drums); Allisson Bobor (ballet); Bobbie Marchand (tap); Kate Potosky, Lauren Fyfe, Anne Bowman and Amy Doole (dance); Janine and Bill Kent, all grew up in Halton Hills.

We are fortunate in our community to have a facility like the John Elliott Theatre that allows local talent to perform in a professional like setting.

We are also fortunate to have a staff at the theatre, headed by Cec Peacock and includes Hans, Christine, Kim and Mike. Their friendliness and cooperation were important in the success of our production.

The manager of the Alcott Arena also very accommodating in displaying our show on the large outdoor sign. Thanks to you and the town.

Larry Scott, Associate Producer,
President, Cancer Society
