

Ballinafad community turns out to celebrate the green

What a great party this past Saturday's St. Patrick's Dance turned out to be, at the community centre!

Joe Vettore as D.J. was a real crowd pleaser. Even though there was a difference in ages and tastes among the 120 or so in attendance, Joe seemed to know just what to play, and had all the latest hits, as well as many old rock and roll, plus country.

The food that had been brought for the potluck luncheon was truly phenomenal. There was enough to feed 200, and had a variety of everything from cheese trays, salads, to lasagna and chili.

The Jim Dandies wish to thank all that attended to make their fundraiser such a huge success.

Special thanks and much appreciation go out to Jim and Curtis Marshall, and

4-H report

Nathan Ella gives us this following report: The Ballinafad 4-H Working with Wool Club met at the home of Jean Burt at 6:30 p.m. on March 16 with all 12 members present.

Through the roll call we showed our knitting samples we worked on the week before. Members decided on the name of the Woolly Workers as our name for this project.

We broke into groups and the leaders showed us the purling set.
