

68th anniversary

A&P set to celebrate

Your neighbourhood A&P Super Saver store is looking for a Super shopper...and they're hoping it's you.

To help celebrate its 68th anniversary The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company is giving SuperSaver shoppers the chance to win a $680 shopping spree at A&P. 68 shoppers will win $680 worth of their choice of anything that A&P sells.

When A&P opened the doors of their first store in Canada in 1927, they took pride in the fact that they were able to bring Canadians a great selection of quality foods at low prices.

A total of 68 years has passed, but nothing has changed for A&P. It still prides itself on being able to provide Canadians with a large selection and low prices. And they were pioneers in developing their own private label products, such as Master Choice gourmet products, and the exceptional value of Equality brand products.

Freshness and quality have been and always will be the core of the A&P philosophy, which is why meats are still cut fresh and packaged in the store daily, and why you'll find Jane Parker baked goods fresh from the oven every morning, just as it was in 1929 when A&P built the first Jane Parker bakery on Laughton Avenue.

Back then, grocery stores were much different than the stores of today. Customers would enter a store with gleaming hardwood floors and goods behind glass and wooden display cases. Instead of getting goods themselves, they would read the items off a list to a clerk who would assemble the order and wrap it neatly either for the customer, or for a delivery boy to take out. Often the purchases were made on credit, and the grocer's bill was sent out on a monthly basis.

As times changed, so did A&P. Customers had less time to shop, so merchandise was set out on shelves so that they could help themselves. Fresh meats were wrapped and priced individually so that customers could see the cut before buying. This style of grocery store set the standard for the industry.

A&P promises that they won't change their policy of pride and price. You can count on them to bring you the finest selection and low prices every day - just as they have for the past 68 years.

For a chance to win one of the shopping sprees simply shop at A&P with your SuperSaver Card between April 30 and May 20.

Every time you do, you'll be automatically entered for a chance to win.

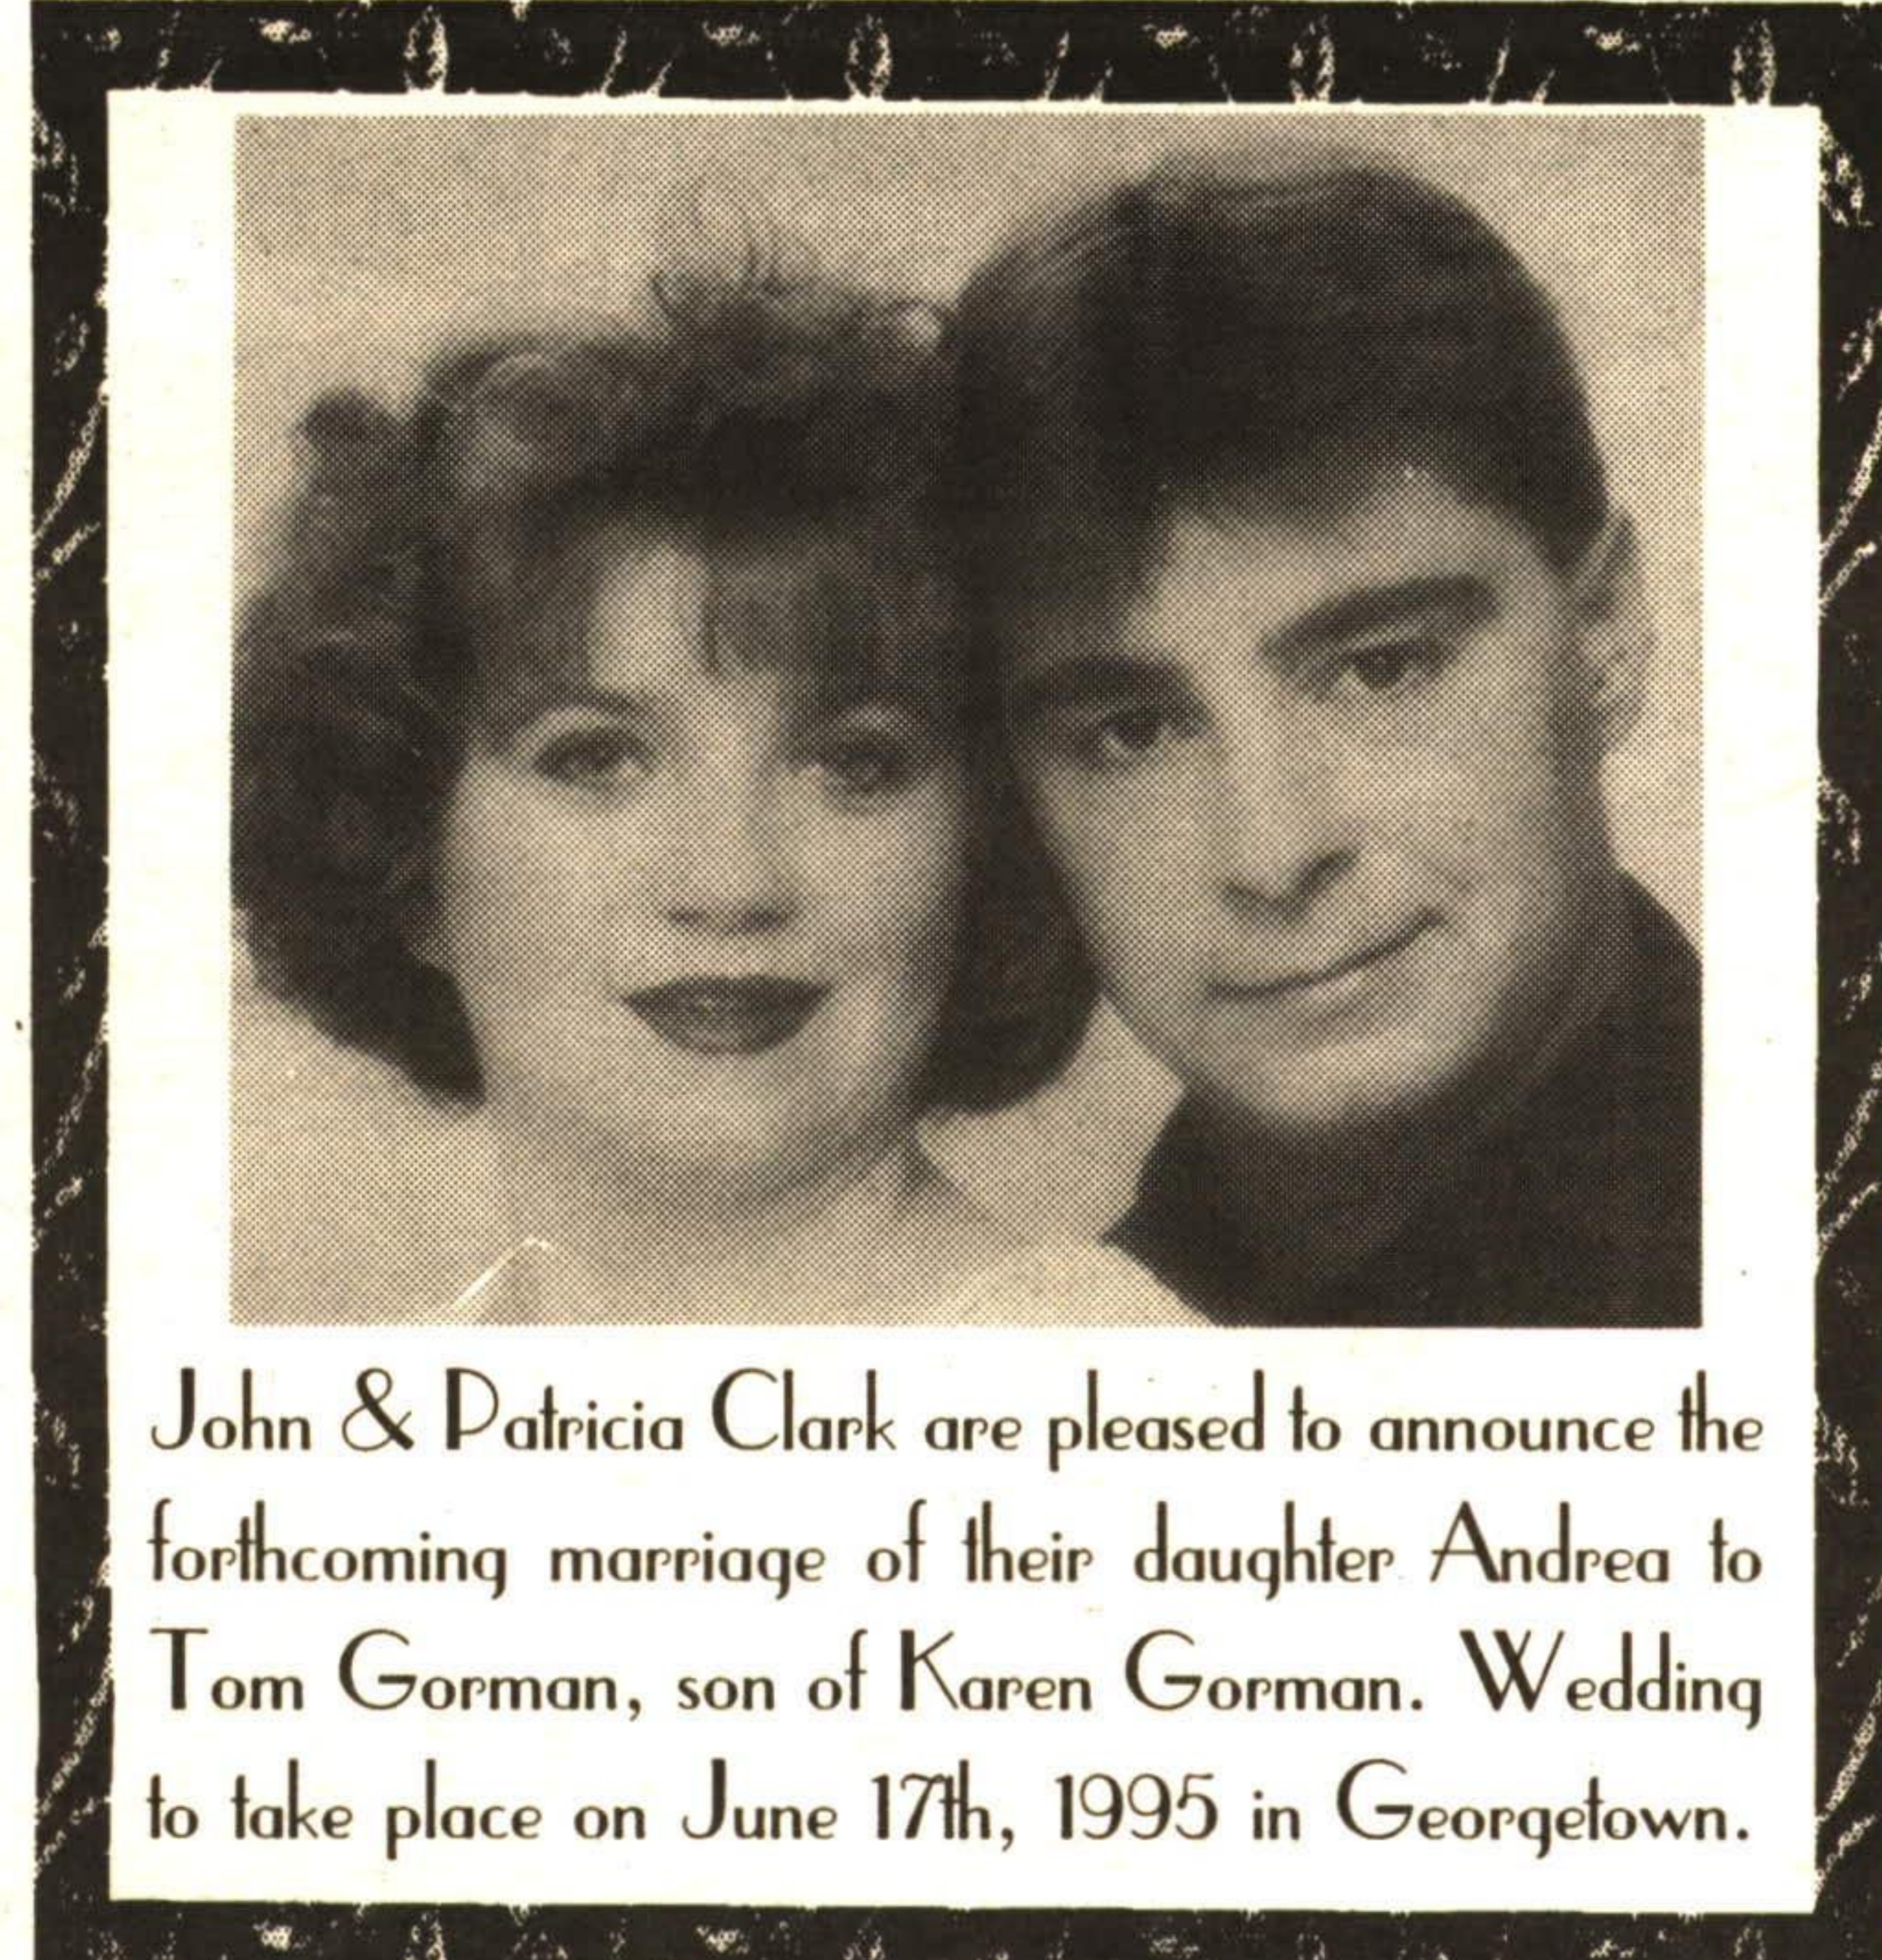

On May 20, A&P will electronically draw the names of the 68 SuperSaver winners.

The more you shop with your SuperSaver card, the more chances you have to win. See in store for complete contest rules and regulations.
