

Looking for Classics

With the warm spring weather upon us, car enthusiasts are pulling their collectors' models out from under their winter wraps to dust them off and prepare for the steady flow of upcoming car shows this summer.

The Eighth Annual Classics Against Cancer Car Show will once again be held Father's Day, June 18, at Cedarvale Park in Georgetown.

As the show features one of the biggest and best displays of antique, classic and modified cars and trucks in southern Ontario, prospective entrants should get their entries in early, as space is limited. Entry fees are $25 per car.

Not only will you be taking part in one of the highest class car shows around, you will be aiding a good cause, as all proceeds go to the Canadian Cancer Society.

Anyone requiring more information and an entry form can write to Classics Against Cancer, 10 Oak Ridge Drive, Georgetown Ont. L7G 5G6, or by calling (905) 877-2203 or (416) 798-7889.

Fun and 'Games' for local seniors

The Halton Hills division of the Ontario Seniors' Games will be organizing numerous activities throughout Halton Hills over the next few weeks.

The emphasis is on having fun, rather than ability, and all games are open to adults, at least 55 years young, so come out and support your seniors' community.

There will be euchre competitions in both Acton and Georgetown, with the Georgetown euchre Thursday May 11, at Georgetown Seniors Recreation Centre.

Call Neila Mowat at 877-1847 for details.

In Acton, seniors will have the chance to trump their opponents at their euchre, to be held Wednesday, May 17 at the Acton Seniors Centre at the Community Centre.

Call Christine Robertson at 853-1278 for details.

Georgetown Seniors will be able to take part in the cribbage competition, Thursday, May 18, at the Georgetown Seniors Centre.

The contact person for that event is Bud Livingstone, at 877-5033.

Registration is $3 per person per event, and competitors should preregister at the Civic Centre, at least two weeks prior to the event.
