Red Cross clinic collects 230 units of blood

By GERALD PURDY
Special to The Independent/Free Press

The Halton Hills Red Cross held a blood donor clinic in Georgetown in May to meet the need for blood donations. The May 8th clinic was sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Georgetown.

This clinic received 230 units of blood and had 243 people attend.

Lots of thanks

A special thanks to the telephone committee, to Shirley Chaplin for publicity and promotion, and to our convenors, Anna Ewen and Elaine Chatten, and to Flo Street and Erica Thompson for organizing the clinic. The outstanding efforts and organization of these people made our drive very successful.

We would also like to thank Dr. A. Ashenurst for being the medical practitioner on call during our clinic. Once again we are indebted to our supporters: Dairy Queen for juice and cups; Pizza Hut for tea and serviettes; Miracle Mart and Shoppers Drug Mart for Cola, and A&P for coffee. These contributions and the volunteers from C.W.L. made our clinics function smoothly.

Donor awards

There were special donor awards given to the following people: 100th donation: Barry H. Grummett; 50th donation: Bruce McHaffie; 35th donation: Anne Balank, Joseph Clare, Randy Schaefer; 20th donation: Robert Bishop, Dale Gibbons, Barbara Gunby, Jennifer Beardmore.

The Red Cross wishes to thank The Independent/Free Press for the coverage they give to these clinics and for the support they have shown for the blood donor services of Georgetown.

Our next public clinics will be held Thursday, June 22 in Acton and Monday, August 14 in Georgetown.

On a high note

Georgetown native Holly Verhaegen was the guest performer at the annual Arts Alive Brunch held last month at the Gallery. Verhaegen in her third year of voice performance at the University of Toronto is planning a career in opera. She was accompanied at the brunch performance by Susan Archibald.
