Rebels qualify for regionals

Georgetown District High School's track and field beat goes on. At the Golden Horseshoe Athletic Conference championships last week, a number of Rebel athletes qualified for the Regionals.

Kevin Taylor came up with first place finishes in both the senior boys discus and shot-put.

Amanda Bonnell also turned in a pair of first place performances, in the junior girls 400-metres and 300-metre hurdles.

Other first place finishes were by Matt Brain in the senior boys javelin, Ryan Howitt in the junior boys high jump and Sara Arnesen in the junior girls high jump.

In addition to the event winners, midget girl regional qualifiers were Julie Brown in the 300-metre hurdles, Lisa Earle in the discus, Katie Ford also in the discus, Chandra Shail in the 400-metres, Katie Sterritt in the 3,000-metres and 1,500 metres and Leslie Gordon in both the 80-metre hurdles and 300-metre hurdles.

Helen Raynard qualified in junior girls shot-put and triple jump.

Other junior girls advancing were

Lisa McDonald in the javelin and discus and Roanne Sones in the 3,000-metres and 1,500-metres.

In junior boys competition, Howitt also qualified in the triple jump, Tim Grant in the 300-metre hurdles, Mike Komorowski in the javelin and long jump, Sam Southworth in the 800-metres and Steve Gibbons in the 200-metres.

Ellen Matthews and Esther Copland both qualified in the senior girls 3,000-metres. Andrea LeBannister also made the senior girls cut, in the 400-metre hurdles.

In addition to his victory in the senior boys javelin, Brain qualified in the high jump.

Brain's joined by D.J. Figliomeni in the 100-metres and discus, Mike Roe in the steeplechase and Jorg Schmidt in the 110-metre hurdles and triple jump and Matt Hardstaff in the 400-metres.

Two Rebel relay teams also advanced. Schmidt, Figliomeni, Brain and Paul Burgess led the senior boys 4x100-metre squad and Brain, Southworth, Figliomeni, Grant, Burgess and Hardstaff qualified in the open boys 4x400-metres.
