Ballinacree news

If any individual or business is able to sponsor the June Ballinacree newsletter, it would be greatly appreciated. The sponsorship can be done anonymously, or an ad can be featured on the front page of the newsletter. The cost is 100 postage stamps, which amounts to $46.01, including tax. Assistance with ad design is available. Please drop into the Ballinacree General Store to make arrangements, or call 853-3691. Other months are also open for sponsors.

Hall Board meeting cancelled

The Hall Board decided not to hold their monthly meeting in June. There were no outstanding items needing immediate attention. Other reports from the community centre include that the new well has tested okay for water quality health standards.

Vandalism

There is continuing vandalism at the park, and community centre building. Individuals have smashed lights and windows, wrapped the swings tight around the top post, and tried to set a fire in the washroom. Folks are asked to report any unusual occurrences so that these individuals can be apprehended.

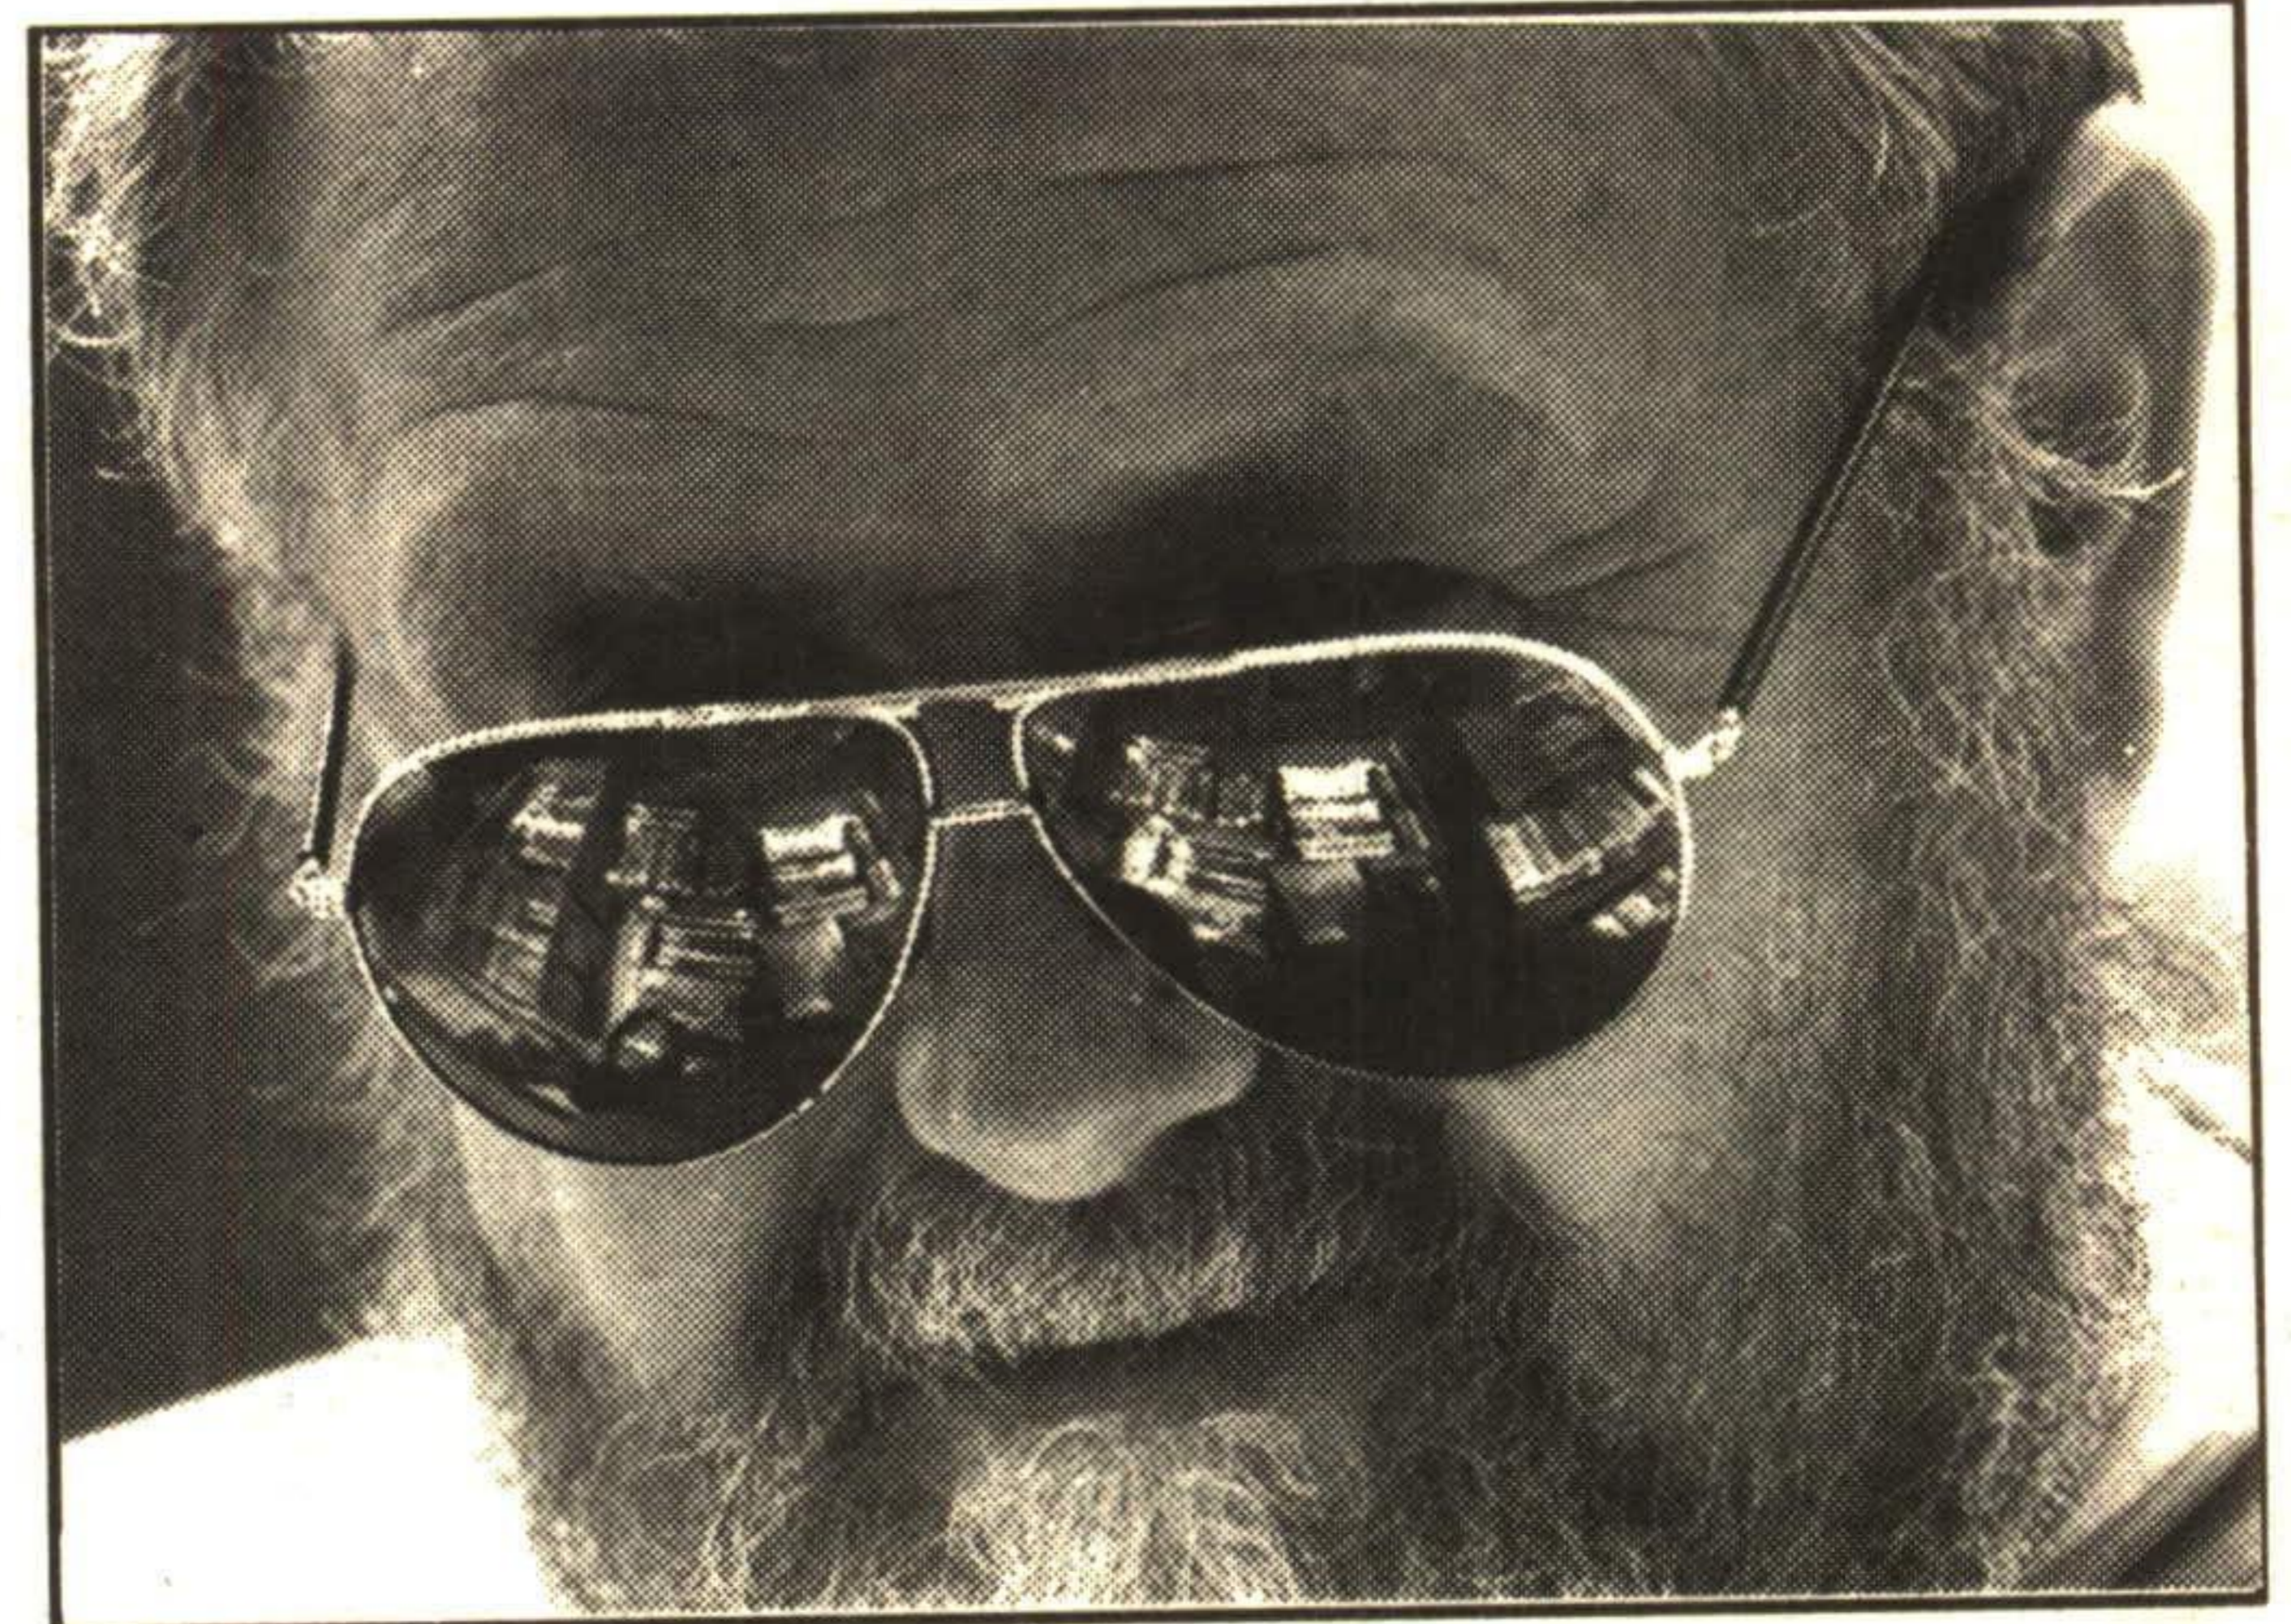

Jim Dandies report

The Jim Dandies held their own on June 12 against the Chicks. The team enjoyed a full roster, plus new additions. The Jim Dandies welcome Betty McEachern, and Teresa Pyke to their roster. The game ended with a 8-6 win in favor of the Jim Dandies.

Wednesday's game against the Panthers turned out to be a different story. The Panthers took the lead right from the start, and with several triples and home runs, they kept it. The Jim Dandies seemed to be powerless to regain the runs, as their batting was dismal. The score ended up as 14-4.

There are two games scheduled for last week one on Monday in Ballinacree, and the other on Wednesday at Acton's Prospect Park.

Reflecting through the sunglasses of Peter O'Meara of Acton are the boxes of books that were for sale at the Acton branch of Halton Hills Library recently. The money raised goes into the library's book fund. SIMON WILSON photo
