

ACTON FOR BUSINESS ACTON

Looking for a hobby? Or having a hard time finding the right craft supplies? Look no further, drop into Red Rose Country Crafts at 37-39 Mill St., in Acton — it's sure to have everything you need.

The craft shop opened in March 1994 in a Hwy. 7 renovated house, and moved to its present location July 21, 1994.

The first year (in business) has been an experience, but a lot of fun," says co-owner Nancy Labelle.

Along with partner, Marilyn Mitchell, she aims to cater to hobbyists of all ages, as well as non-hobbyists who are just looking for small, but perfect, gifts for any occasion. The shop carries a wide variety of items, from ready-to-paint bisque and greenware, silk flowers, stitch kits, craft paper and accessories, and paints to craft and pattern books, yarns, ribbons, cards, stuffed animals, dolls and the list goes on.

"If we haven't got it, we try and get it," says Mitchell. At the end of the summer, she added, the store will be setting up a year-round Christmas section.

Service is the number one priority, and that can even include making minor repairs to items customers bring in, such as teddy bears, ceramics and antique picture frames.

As a bonus, the store offers lessons and workshops on various different crafts, such as ceramics, paper tole, folk art, flower arranging, knitting and crocheting. Labelle leads the classes herself or brings in experts.

Summer is a busy time at the shop, she says, and Labelle is now readying for a folk art class. Ceramics, flower arranging and paper tole are types of classes held year-round. Give the store a call at 853-1743 — and give yourself a hobby.
