

CFUW kicks off another season of speakers

By LORRAINE WILLSON
Special to The Independent/Free Press

The Georgetown Club of the Canadian Federation of University Women (CFUW) is kicking off what promises to be another exciting season of speaker presentations and activities.

In conjunction with its informative monthly meetings, the local CFUW Club offers members a range of interest groups, networking opportunities and friendship. Members also participate in the club's annual Used Book and Toy Sale held at the end of April. All proceeds from this major fundraiser go towards scholarship awards for Halton Hills students.

Last year, the club expanded its membership criteria with the addition of associate memberships for those women without degrees who support the aims and interest of the club. Associate members get involved in all club activities and interest groups, but cannot hold office or have voting privileges.

CFUW's 1995/96 lineup begins September 12, with the traditional Wine and Cheese Reception for returning and new members. This informal gathering will be held at St. George's Anglican Church (beside Georgetown High School), starting at 7:30 p.m. Also included on the evening's agenda will be the presentation of scholarship awards to local students.

The majority of the club's monthly meetings are held in the Library of Georgetown High School, starting at 7:45 p.m. The first such meeting will be on October 3, featuring Leslie Switzer and her presentation, Bringing Friendship to the Children of Chernobyl.

On November 7, Sgt. Lee-Ann Ansell will address the issue of Women in the Police Force. A perennial favorite, the Christmas Gathering will be held December 5 at St. John's United Church. The festivities begin at 7:30 p.m. and will include carols, Christmas fare and a gift auction.

Why not consider becoming a member of the University Women's Club of Georgetown? Meet new people, hear guest speakers and expand your interests. For further information, contact Janet Duval, membership convener at 877-1994.
