

ACTON FOR BUSINESS ACTON

Do you need a tool? Maybe your lawn mower isn't working? A visit to the User's Rental at 59 Willow St. in Acton may solve your problems.

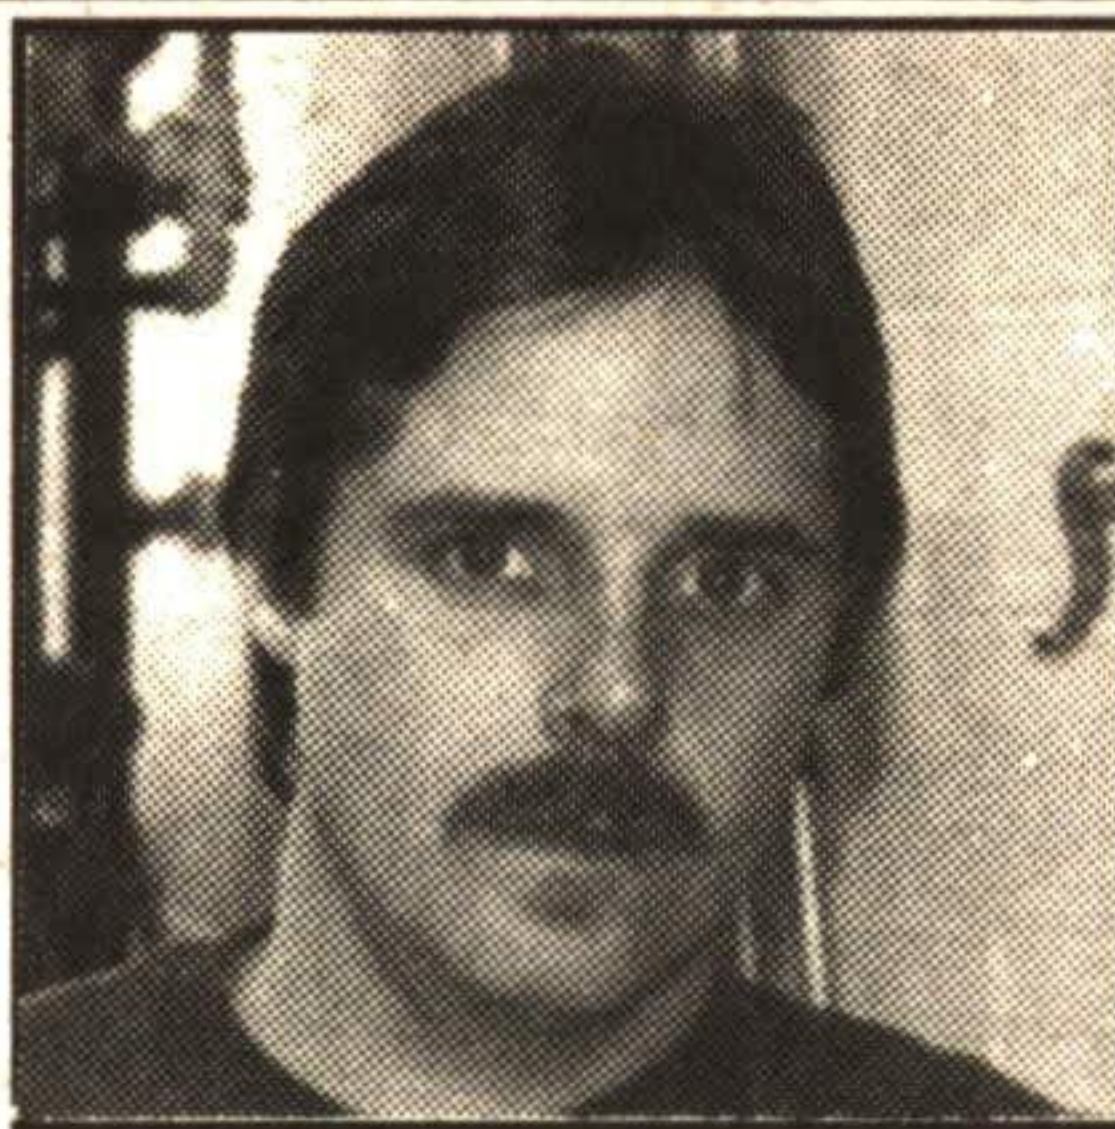

The rent-all store opened in April and is owned by Andrew and Sandra Rogers and Carl Lockhurst and his wife Karen Gregory.

"We're trying to have everything," says Gregory. "We're looking for people to bring in things," she says.

User's Rental offers 20 per cent of the rental fee to people who wish to bring their own tools in to be rented out.

A wide variety of tools and appliance's for the customers is User's Rental's goal. Among the things they offer are air conditioners, lawn and garden equipment, pressure washers, large barbecues (for things like pig roasts), cement mixers, tables and chairs, as well as general tools and equipment.

ANDREW ROGERS

Also available is storage space for people who have lots of stuff, but no place to put it.

The building also has more than 5,000 square feet available to become a flea market on Saturdays and Sundays. They are looking for vendors who are interested in renting a booth. Prices for a booth are as low as $14 per day. Vendors are free to leave their items or work on their booth during the week.

"During the winter months we'll rent out a bay for people to come in and fix and work on their cars," says Gregory.

Carl Lockhurst is available to do small engine repairs on lawn mowers and smaller things like that.

Rates for renting something depend on what you want and how long you want it for. Weekend and overnight use is also available.

People looking to rent something can call User's Rental at 853-2888.
