

Library prepares for the 21st century

The Halton Hills Library Board has initiated the Halton Hills Library Services Master Planning process to provide a 10 to 15 year strategy for the provision of library services in Halton Hills.

The Library Board needs the involvement of the community throughout the planning process in order to "establish the public's priorities for what library facilities or services should look like, provide and contain"... today and into the future.

"This is an exciting opportunity for all Halton Hills residents to come together, consider our future, and plan for a library system which meets all of our needs," says Jay Jackson, chairman of the Library Board.

To ensure the views of all Halton Hills residents are reflected in the Master Plan, an extensive consultation program will be implemented over the next few months. Community Forums will be held on October 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Halton Hills Cultural Centre meeting room and on October 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Acton Library downstairs meeting room.

These meetings will provide an opportunity for the general public, interested organizations and library users to identify strengths and weaknesses of the library, raise issues for further investigation and suggest future directions for the library.

A Library Users Questionnaire has been distributed to randomly selected library patrons to gather basic information on patterns of use, suggested improvements and other issues or concerns. Other consultation tools to be employed include workshops, focus groups, a call for briefs and key contact interviews.

Anyone requiring information on the Halton Hills Library Services Master Plan is encouraged to contact Betsy Cornwell, at 873-2681, or Jim Morgenstern, the Consulting Team project director, at 1-905-660-1060.
