The Rotary Club of Georgetown is proud to announce that Mark Twain will appear for one evening only in Georgetown.

An Evening with Mark Twain will be presented at the John Elliott Theatre on Saturday, January 20. Patrick C. Smith is Mark Twain, and this will mark his return to Georgetown after first presenting his one-man show 23 years ago at Georgetown High School.

It has been said that Smith's performance as Mark Twain is both thought-provoking and challenging, but always hilariously entertaining. Mark Twain will transport his audience to another time and another place.

This performance is in aid of the Ralph Ursel Foundation of the Rotary Club. Tickets are $16 at the theatre box office, 877-3700, or from any member of the Rotary Club. VISA is accepted.

A reception will follow the 8 p.m. performance.

Kalous' work on display

This is your last chance to see the work of Halton Hills wildlife artist Mark Kalous

His work has been on display at the Halton Hills Cultural Centre on Church St., since Nov. 29 and runs until today (Sunday Dec. 17).

The exhibit is open during library hours. The artist was at the centre during the reception to open the exhibit, as well as every day after 2 p.m. until closing.

The artists works on display include landscapes, wildlife and scenes of Amish daily life.
