Rep hockey squads wrapping up regular season

Seven Selects

The Georgetown Remax Seven-Year-Old Selects may have turned the corner on a tough year this past holiday season. The Selects travelled to Tillsonburg last week for their first taste of tournament play, earning a loss and three ties.

The Raiders first game saw them up against a London team that seemed at first glance to match up well against the home side. However, the Raiders came up inexplicably flat and were pummeled by London to the tune of 8-0.

The boys responded to the coach Paul LaRose's words in their second game of the tourney by skating to a 3-3 draw against the hometown Tillsonburg club.

Raymond Martin seemed to have found his scoring touch by putting the rubber behind the Tillsonburg goalie on a lovely set up from Peter Bailey. Bailey also had hand in a tally by Michael LaRose. The Raiders big gun, Jeff Bayley scored one of the prettiest goals this season with a shot that found the top shelf of the net to tie the match. Michael Gilham added an assist on the tying goal.

The next game saw the Raiders face off against the same London team that had humiliated them the day before. Again the Raiders came up with a strong overall effort and held on for a 3-3 draw.

The Raiders big three centermen of Chris Darling, Jeff Bayley and Mike LaRose accounted for all the Raider scoring with Peter Bailey notching an assist on the LaRose marker.

The Raiders next game was against Tillsonburg once again. And once again the Selects skated to a draw, 2-2.

The Raider goal scorers were LaRose and Martin, with Peter Bailey picking up assists on both. Martin's goal came with just 37 seconds left in the game with goalie Sargent on the bench in favour of the extra attacker.

The Raiders kept Sargent on the bench to try and get the winner as it would have qualified them for the championship finals.

Ryan Hirtle put one past the posts assisted by Jordan Armstrong and Kyle Termini as the last period unfolded. Burlington did not give up and made the game more interesting with their third goal. With only a one goal lead, the Raiders could not ease up, until an unassisted goal by Termini with two minutes left in the game clinched the 5-3 win.
