

Elementary school teachers reach tentative agreement

The union representing Halton elementary public school teachers has reached a tentative agreement with the Halton Board of Education.

The tentative pact was reached Monday following a full day of negotiations between representatives of the Public School Teachers' Federation — Halton Chapter and the board's Salary Policy Committee.

Neither side would comment of details of the agreement.

"We stayed within the parameters that we set out to do," said the board's chair of the Salary Policy Committee, Oakville trustee Neil Reid.

The tentative agreement will be presented to the federation members and school board trustees for ratification within the next 10 days, said Reid.

The teachers have been working without a contract since 1994.

Severe damage

A 1992 Jeep was severely damaged in an accident Tuesday, but no one was taken to hospital. An Acton woman was heading east on 25 Sideroad when she lost control of the Jeep due to ice and white outs and the Jeep ended up in the ditch, police said. No charges were laid.

Gas and cigarettes stolen

A 30-year-old man driving a dark blue Volkswagen Golf took off without paying for a tank of gas and a package of cigarettes, at 2:25 a.m. Thursday, police said. He stopped at a 24-hour Acton gas bar and as soon as the attendant put on his gas cap, the man sped off. The car was about 10 years old and the man was stocky,
