

Inter-County league play Mariners retain soccer lead

By Alex Tough

I have a missing article problem from time to time. I often leave things around and cannot recall where I left them. Recently my clip-on sunglasses and 35 mm camera have disappeared. This brings me to my memory problem again. A few weeks ago at Alcott one Sunday morning I picked up a fairly well known Brampton drinking establishment and restaurant numbered jacket and mean to pinpoint the item in the column, obviously belonging to a player or fan. The owner may contact me and identify it and I shall hand it over.

Ancient Mariners retain the lead at the top of the Inter-County First Division, but only just. Ajax put up a tremendous battle to stay in the match. Although short of players, mainly due to injury, Ajax fought all the way. A dubious penalty call close to the end of the game and scored by Mariners sealed the 3-2 win. Mariner goalie Steve Turner received his first-ever ejection in history 20 minutes from the end. Mariners missed two penalty attempts. Interestingly, former Mariners Steve Swinscoe and Mike Giusto scored for Ajax.

Meteor featured in a peculiar match at Gunners. Conflicting reported arrived on the match shortly after it was played. Either a league game was started and stopped later before turning into an exhibition game, or an exhibition contest was played from the start. The actual game was either a 2-1 or 3-2 Gunners victory. The whole matter is under investigation by the league discipline committee.

Merseyside came to Meadowglen and ran out 5-0 winners over a shorthanded, or it is shortfooted, United after a close first half. Mersey's attacking style proved too much for the United defence. Both teams had a player ejected and United's Jurgen Hack has lodged an appeal on the decision.

Winchester faced Blazers and won 3-2 to remain in contention for honors.

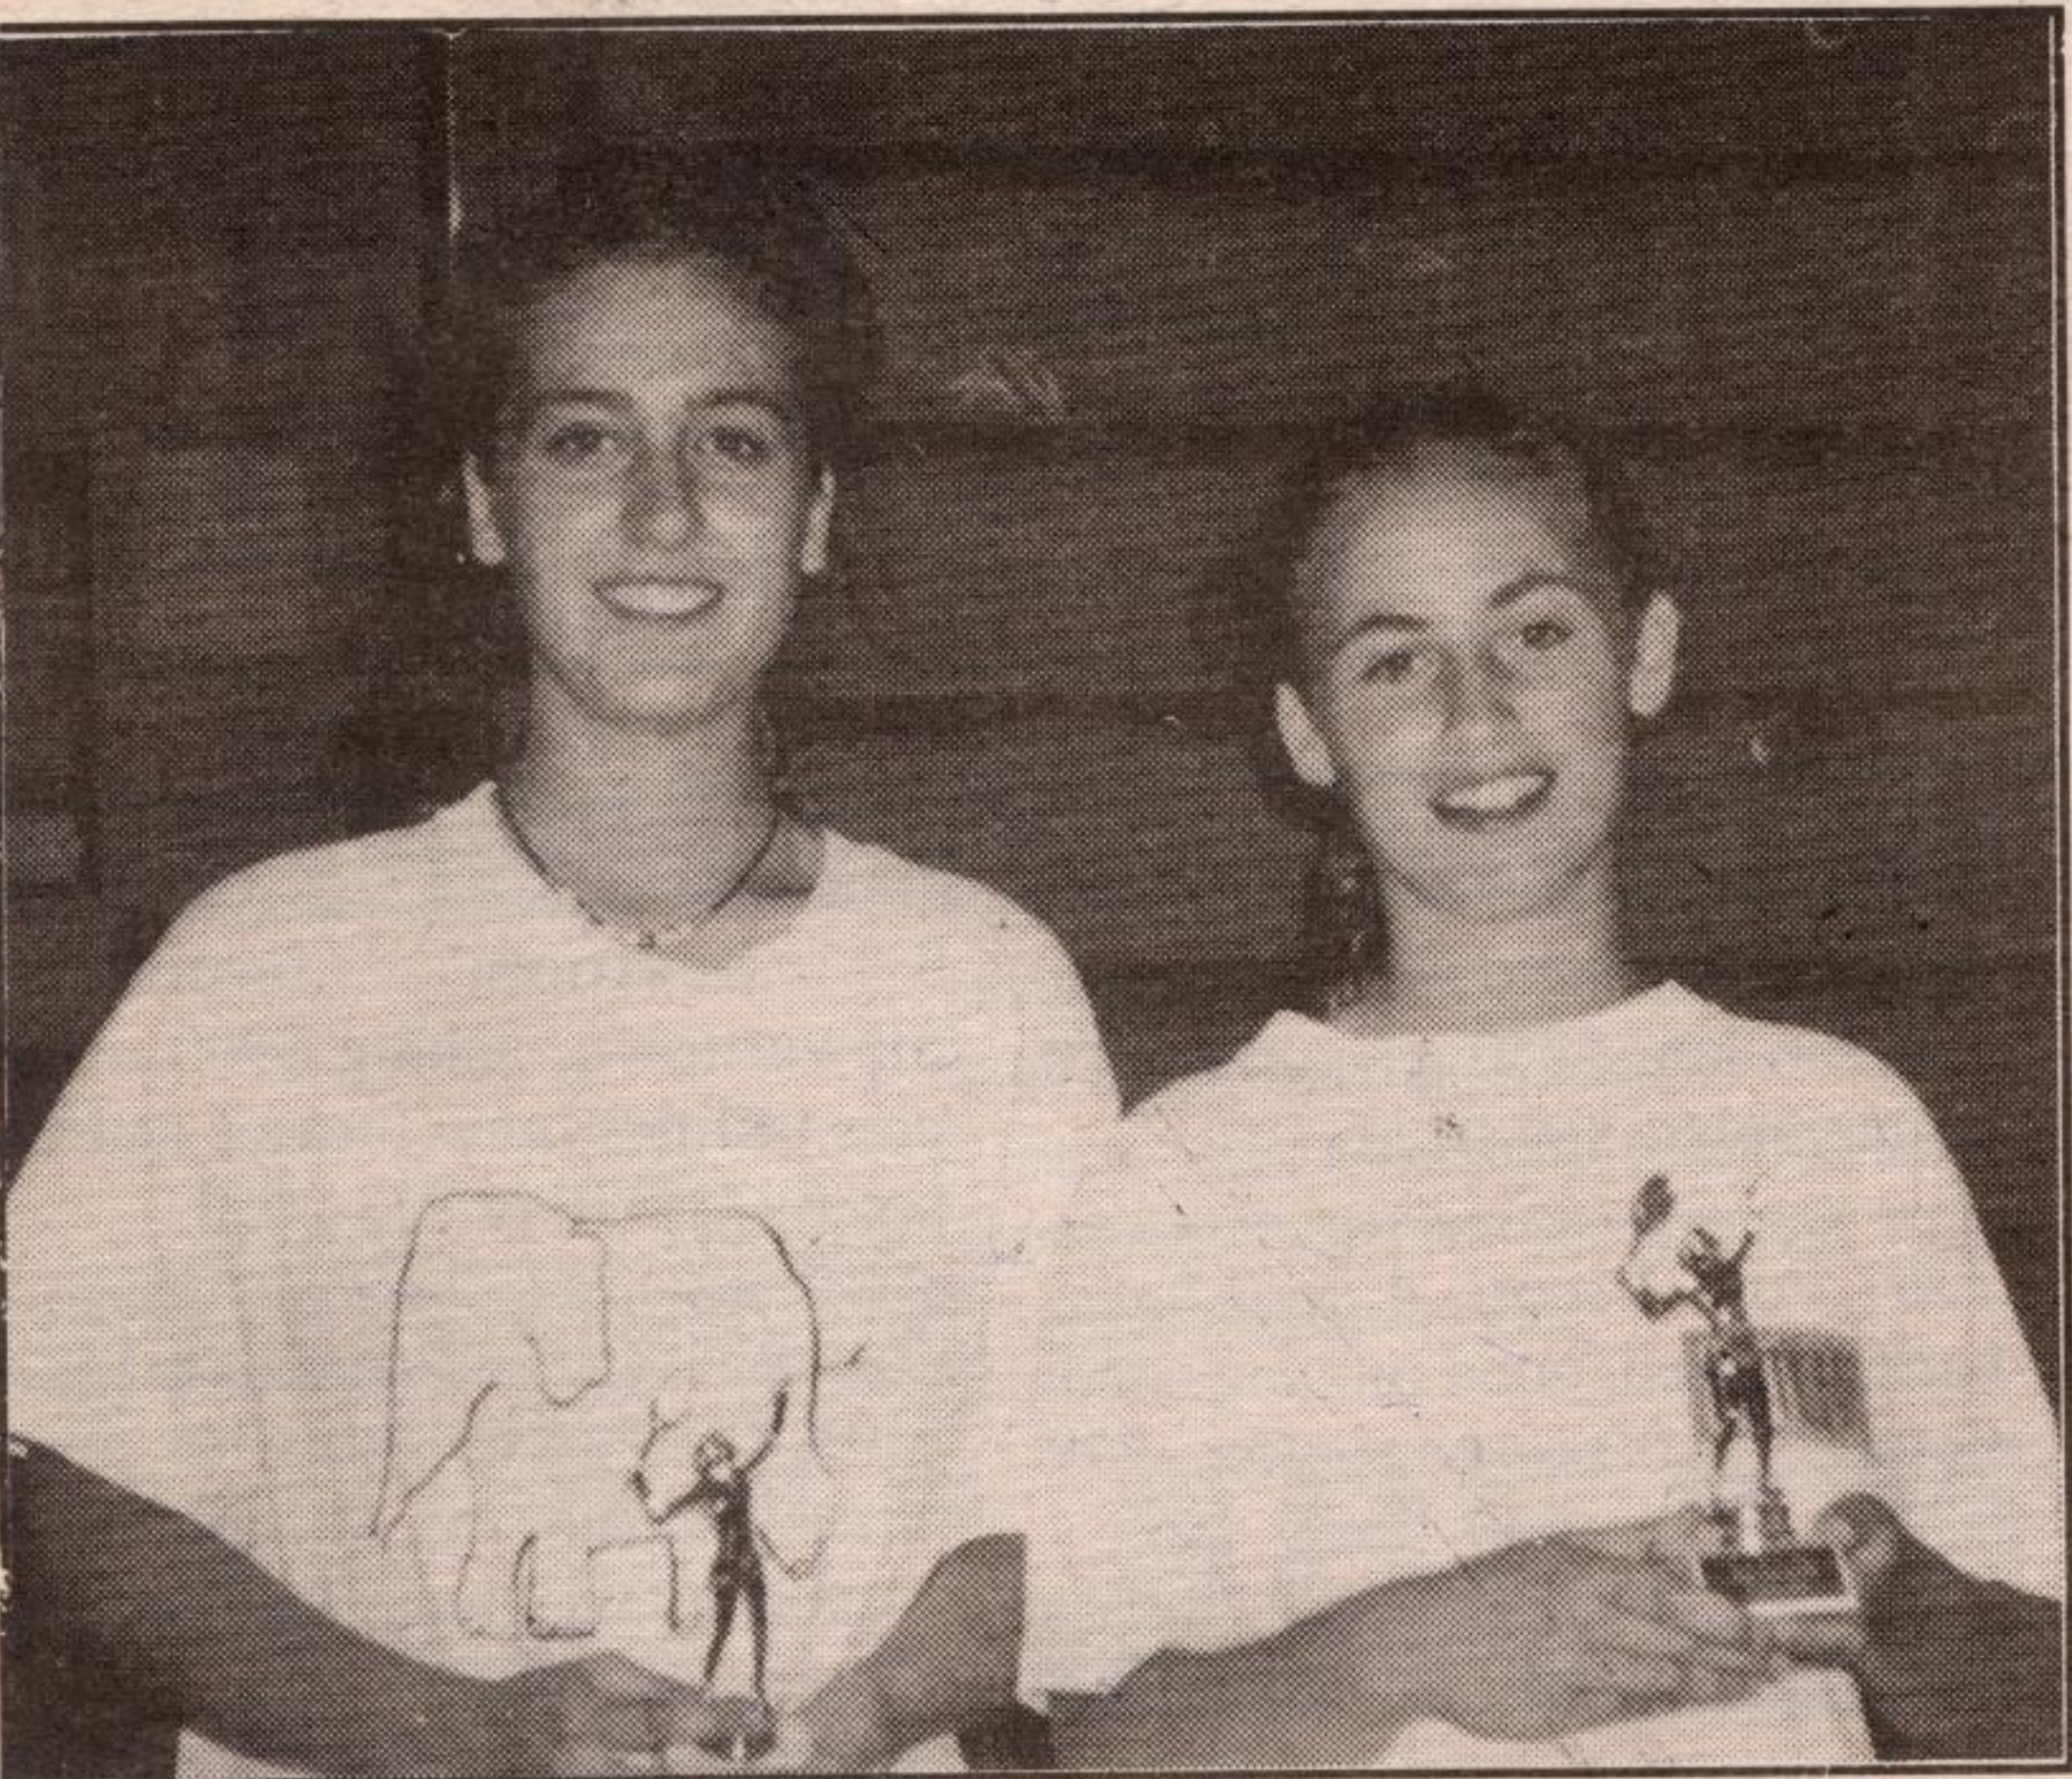

Meteor lost in the quarter-final of the Challenge Cup match to be played. Hare and Hounds won on sudden-death penalty kicks 4-3 after an excellent match was tied 0-0 after regulation 90 minutes and overtime. H and H now meets Merry-side in a first- versus second-division all-Brampton matchup in semifinal action to be played later in the month (Aug. 17 to be exact).

In league play, H and H defeated Stingers 1-0 although I an told it could've been a barrowload. PRPA arrested Milton 5-0 and is tied with Eagles for fourth place. Eagles sat out this week and there is no result from the Villa-Meadowvale game, which will have a direct bearing on top standings in the second division.

Games tonight include: Meteor vs. Blazers at Meadowglen at 7 p.m.; Ajax vs. Mersey at Alcott at 7 p.m. for the only games in town. Mariners travel to Syntex to meet Winchester at 8:30 p.m.; United meets Gunners at Thomson at 8 p.m.; Eagles are in Acton to play Villa. Stingers have the night off.

Georgetown's under-18 girls Challengers went from the Ontario Cup loss to play Burlington's top team and lost 3-0 with a better performance. This was, from all accounts, a much cleaner contest than the Scarboro game and several players showed well. Again, it seem to be a second-half comeback which kept the team in the game until the final whistle. After hosting Kitchener on Monday (results weren't available), Georgetown hosts Burlington on Monday at Cedarvale starting at 8:30 p.m.

By the way, as I type, it is raining again _ what a soccer summer.

Alcott tennis club decides its champs

The Gordon Alcott Tennis Club finished its junior tournament Monday night.

Jenny Lorito won the girls singles crown with a 6-4, 6-1 win over Jennifer Koster. The two then combined to win the doubles title. Krysten McBride and Beth Cocker won the doubles consolation championship over Nicky and Donna Koster.

Paul Dallison won the boys under-14 singles competition with a 4-6, 6-0, 6-1 win over Chris Morisawa. Karl Hancock won the consolation side against Chris Wilkes.

The Ladies B team took three points from Credit Valley. Kay King and Chris Steen came back for a 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 win while Audry Jans and Sandy Lewis claimed a 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 victory.

The Ladies C team didn't fare so well against Bronte, losing all matches. Gloria Sargent and Millie Pletsch lost 6-0, 6-3; Muriel Fraser and Mary Hughes dropped a 6-0, 5-7, 3-6 decision while Marg Macenko and Norma Maynard lost a tough 7-6 (7-5), 4-6, 6-0 contest.

The B mixed team took four points from York Weston. The men's doubles teams won, as did one mixed. Another mixed team lost, as did the ladies doubles.

The C mixed team took four points from Malton. Murray Jans and Tom Gibbons lost 6-2, 6-0; Gary Lewis and Jim Morwick won 6-2, 2-6, 6-2; Bill Kent and Andrew Elliott lost 6-4, 4-6, 6-7 (7-5); Andy Humenny and Sandy Lewis won 6-3, 6-0; John Dallison and Jennifer Koster won 6-4, 6-3.

A round-robin event will be held Aug. 19 for the ladies B and C teams, followed by a pot luck and swim.

Van Egmond scores four in girls win

Angie Van Egmond scored four times to lead first-place Bellamy's past second-place Optimists in girls under-12 soccer action last week.

Annie Schaefer had two goals for Bellamy's. Kim Moore had the other as the entire winning team played well.

Jennifer Tremblay had the lone Optimists goal. Playing well were Jennifer Elliott, Erin Ashbee and Candice Wilson.
