

Weather allows for makeup games

A remarkable happening in baseball all was made possible this past week with four days of fine weather; the six teams in the Georgetown Baseball Association pee wee loop completed all of their regularly-scheduled games with no rainstorms running interference.

GW Woodworking Blue Jays 9 Kinsmen Club Expos 9

The second-fastest ground crew in baseball worked quickly before game time to drain the Centennial diamond home-plate area of several centimetres of water and gravel mud which had accumulated from the mid-afternoon downpour. The players were not deterred by the modification of the playing area and fought a balanced battle on the bases. The Expos credited their fine play to good defensive work to Topher Baker and Chris Hall, who shared pitching duties. Baker was also commended for a quick throw-down to Hall at first early in the game. The Jays' offensive thrust was provided by Todd Prucyk and Shane DUBYK, who gathered triples. DUBYK and Prucyk lead defensively, as well, with outstanding fly-ball catches. Jeff Hohendorf counted a double and was credited with good defensive play.

George and Dragon Angels 13 TD Bank Padres 7

Adamo Discenza sparked the offence of the Angels with a drive down the third-base line, which counted three runs. Mike Watts led the Angels defensively at second with superb field of two groundouts at second while Rob Huisman matched his talent with a clean catch at first for another Angel putout. Jesse DeForest alertly avoided a pickoff attempt by the Padres at third and ultimately stole home on the next play. The Padres recognized David Leverette for his excellent skills at first. Rob LaRose lead the Padres offensively with a triple and a run-batted in.

Kinsmen Club Expos 11 TD Bank Padres 10

The Padres stormed into the game with a leadoff, first-pitch long ball to centre off the bat of Richard Hyde. Jon Routledge and Rob LaRose contributed to the strong Padres offence with two runs-batted in and Trevor McBain counted for one. McBain made outstanding catches and along with Kris Noonan were cited as the defensive players for the Padres. The Expos' offence was dominated by Nick Johnston and Brian Hylkema who tallied doubles. Hylkema also tallied two runs-batted in, with Thomas Arnold adding one. Andrew Wright charged the defence of the Expos with a home-plate throwout while Mike Rome's steady pitching skills resulted in a shutout inning for the Expos.

MVP Distributors Pirates 16 Jim and Pat Akers Realty Phillies 10

Jason Estevan lead the hitting game for the Phillies with a solid triple while Scott Anderson and Joel Springer both tallied doubles. Anderson tested the defence of the Pirates by successfully stealing home twice. Thomas Collicott, on the pitcher's mound, snagged a screamer for an impressive out. Phillies coach and manager Victor Estevan revealed that "the Phillies got behind early in the game due to fielding errors but made a valiant comeback in the middle innings with aggressive base running. It was a much more satisfying game for us; we got shutout the last time we played the Pirates." The domination of the league by the Pirates continued with doubles from Bill Dimitriou, Chris Kilmer, Stephen

Hockey camp offers early start

It's that time of year where youngsters busily rub their hands together in anticipation while parents quickly pay off their gas cards and get new all-season tires put on the family vehicle.

That's right, it's hockey season. And the Halton Hills Sports Academy is offering a chance for a head start on the season with its 1992 Hockey School.

The five-day event, which begins Aug. 31 at the Alcott Arena, offers registrants a wide variety of activities, including two daily on-ice sessions, video instruction, fitness and strength classes and hockey seminars. Players will be able to put the lessons to practise at the end-of-the-camp game.

The camp will address two levels of skill development. The foundation program is designed for the beginning and house-league players while the advanced player received a more intensified program.

Registration is $190 for one child, and $180 each for two more players. Those taking part will be provided with a hockey sweater, performance evaluation, a certificate of achievement, a student ratio of 1:10 and four on-ice instructors at all times.

Lunches can be provided at an additional cost.

The school is being operated by Dave Krause and Davin Ciglen, with GMHA graduates Tim Bennett, Curtis Green and Rod Pasma also taking part as instructors.

For more information call 873-4991 or fax (416) 873-3931.

A special registration session will be held Thursday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Alcott Arena.
