

In girls field hockey action

Rebels blanked twice by Nelson squads

Nelson High School ran over the Rebels on Wednesday. The Burlington school swept a pair of field hockey games from their Georgetown District High School hosts.

Nelson blanked the junior Rebels 2-0 while the senior Rebels fell 3-0. The senior result came as quite a surprise to coach Kevin Hughes.

"We have a veteran team but Nelson just outplayed us," he said.

"The main problem was conditioning. We'll be working very hard on that in our practices."

Seven of the Rebels' 11 starters are returning from last year and Hughes sees this as a year to make a run at a championship.

"It's kind of a do or die year. We have the potential to go as far as we can but the veterans are the ones who will have to carry the weight."

The junior team has about half of its players returning. It used the season opener to do some experimenting.

"We were trying people in new positions," said coach Kim Swanson. "That probably took away from our scoring."

The juniors have some veterans, such as Laurie Ball and third-year players Shirley and Ann Grant. They also have some strong newcomers, including Erin Craighead, a Grade 11 student playing field hockey for the first time, and Grade 9 student Trina Meloche.

Both teams are in action again on Monday against Assumption.
