Halton Region Museum to celebrate pioneer life

Explore the customs, traditions and celebrations of Ontario's pioneer settlers Saturday, Nov. 9 at the Halton Region Museum in Kelso Conservation Area, Milton.

Celebrations of Early Settlers in Ontario, a workshop presented by the Ontario Historical Society and Friends of the Museum, will take place from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Hearth Room of the museum's Alexander Barn.

The program will look at the origins of the Old World Celebrations, at how early customs evolved in the New World, and at holiday food traditions. "Christmas Remembered", a video illustrating how different cultures celebrate the festive season, will also be featured.

The registration fee of $10 for members of a co-sponsor and $20 for non-members includes an information kit of resource materials. A homemade lunch by museum volunteers will be available for an additional fee.

To register, please call Linda Twitchell at the Halton Region Museum (905) 875-2200 or the Ontario Historical Society at (416) 226-9011.
