TAX TALK

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF H&R BLOCK

Q. My wife and I made charitable donations during the year amounting to $200 each. Is it better for us to claim all the donations on one tax return, or for each of us to claim our own donations?

A. It is beneficial to pool the donations and make one claim whenever the combined receipts are in excess of $200; this allows you to take advantage of the higher tax credit rate of 29% for donations over $200. Taxpayers with donations that total less than $200 may wish to consider saving their receipts and pooling donations for two or more years to take advantage of the higher tax credit rate. Charitable donations can be claimed any time within five years.
