Around town

Members of Knox Presbyterian Church, Georgetown, honored Rev. Peter Barrow's 25 years of service at the church. On hand for the occasion were (from left) Barrow's daughters Trish Barrow, Jane Barrow, Ron Gable (clerk of session), Rev. Barrow, Chris Burgess (past president of the ladies' auxiliary) and daughter Margaret Barrow.

CIBC operations support clerk Carolyn Lane was recently recognized at the branch for her 25 years with the downtown Georgetown bank. On hand for the celebration was the branch's manager Bob Boughton (at left).

Acton High School students took part in their first annual Skills Olympics Friday as they competed in various categories. Above, John Rossi cuts up some lumber while Nick Vancek steadies it in the Grade 11 construction division, while (above left) Sheri Forbes drives a few nails into what will be a picnic table in her category. The competition featured construction, transportation, communications, and computer assisted design categories.
