Busy time at church

By BETTY SOJKA
Ballinafad News

The UCW had a very knowledgeable guest speaker for the April meeting when Lisa Sanderson attended.

There was an open discussion on gardens in general as well as gardening problems. Lisa has just completed a landscaping and horticulture course at Humber. She went into some detail of her course requirements. Sandwiches and coffee completed this very interesting meeting.

It certainly has been a busy weekend at the church. The Youth Group started things off on Friday evening with a talent night.

Sunday was the day to celebrate 119 years of worship at the United Church. Many former members of the congregation had come out to fill the pews. Both the Junior and Senior Choirs sang hymns specially chosen for this occasion. Christine Gallante was the guest soloist. Reverend Jim Kirkwood was in attendance as a former resident. It was the Ballinafad congregation that had sponsored him 43 years ago to the United Church Conference level when he wanted to become a minister.

Don't forget to come on out to the United Church garage, bake and plant sale on May 10 between 9 a.m. and noon. Donations can be dropped off on Thursday and Friday evenings between 7-9 p.m.

Special thanks to Birch Way Farms, for sponsoring the April newsletter.
