

Lockwood leads strong showing Local gymnasts deliver golden effort

Kristin Lockwood swept all four events on her way to the all-around gold medal at the Milton Springers Gym Club Invitational. She was one of six Halton Hills Gymnastic Club members to win overall gold.

Lockwood won the vault, bars, beam and floor events in the Elite 9-10 Division. Teammates Lindsay Nicholls, Merrit Lymburner and Megan Burke completed a sweep of the top four places in the division. Nicholls was second all-around in the division. She tied Lockwood for first in the floor event and won silver on the bars. Lymburner was third overall with a silver on both vault and beam. Burke took fourth with third-place finishes on both bars and beam.

Halton Hills gymnasts were one-two in the Elite 8 Division. Tiffany Boychuk captured the all-around gold followed by Larhae Bucke, who took the silver. Boychuk won gold on the floor and silver on bars and beam. Bucke won gold on bars and beam.

Charla Banks and Jennifer McMullen repeated that feat in the Open B Division. Banks secured the overall gold by winning the vault and bars and placing third on beam. McMullen had a gold on beam, silver on vault and bronze on bars to take second overall.

Laura Kogon captured the all-around gold in the Tiny B Division with a first on beam, second on floor and third on both the vault and bars. Kristen Clark picked up a gold medal on floor and a bronze on vault to help her place seventh overall.

Emilie Blouin won the overall Tyro B (B) title with golds on vault and bars and a bronze on beam.

Taryn Donaghues won gold on bars and silver on both beam and vault to win the overall Argo B Division title. Erin Smith won gold on floor and was ninth all-around.

Brittany Douey won the all-around silver medal in the Tiny C Division. She won the gold on bars and silver on beam.

Tara King won a medal in each event and finished second overall in the Argo C Division. She won gold on bars, silver on beam and bronze on vault and floor.

Jessica Partridge took the overall bronze in the Elite 7 Division. She was second on bars and third on beam.

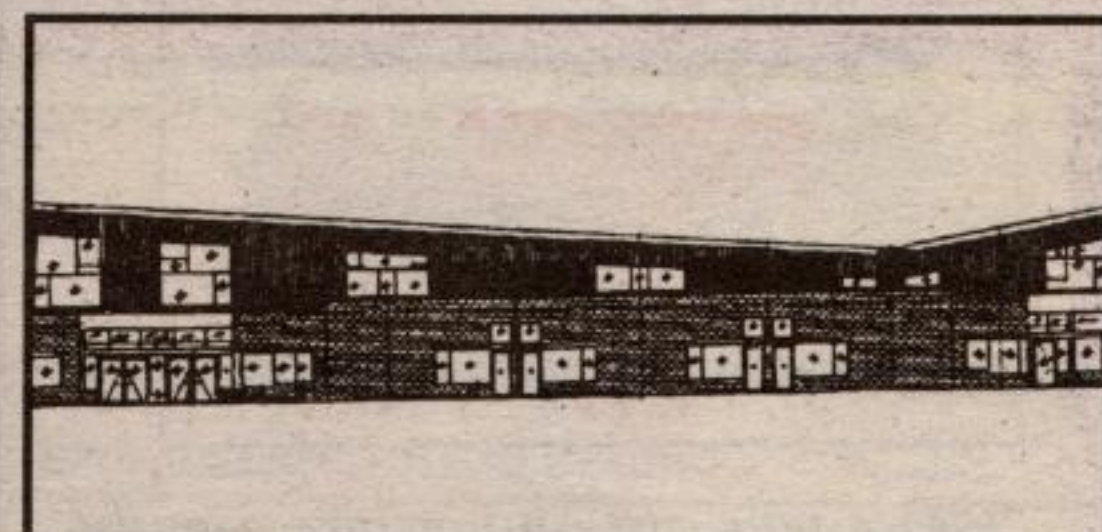

Teammate Jennifer Lymburner was sixth all-around, including a bronze medal on floor. Megan McCrae won bronze medal on vault and was eighth overall.

Rebecca Kogon was the all-around bronze medal winner in the Mini C Division. She won gold on beam and silver on floor. Colleen Beswick was sixth overall, picking up a bronze on beam.

Alyson Grant also won overall bronze by capturing silver medals on vault and beam. Michelle Boere was fifth overall, including a bronze on beam.

Nicola Bulgarelli was eighth overall in the Cadette B Division. She won a silver medal on vault.
