Gaberlunzie headlines a fund-raiser for the Hickory Falls Ratepayers Association in Ballinafad on May 8.

Folk duo, Gaberlunzie, returns to Ballinafad

HOping to repeat the success of last year's sold-out performance, Gaberlunzie is returning to the Ballinafad Community Centre on Friday, May 8 at 8 p.m.

Folk singers, Gordon Menzies and Robin Watson, play guitars and the mandolin, and sing both modern and traditional Scottish and Celtic songs. Currently composing songs for their next CD, they plan to perform some of this new material in addition to some songs written by Canadians.

"We've been coming to Canada since 1976," said Menzies, "and we've never played to a bad audience. We've always been well received by Canadians."

Tickets are $15, available at the Ballinafad General Store or from Darlene Moore at 873-4917. This is an annual fund-raiser sponsored by the Hickory Falls Ratepayers Association, which works to protect its part of the Niagara Escarpment.

Choral Society spring show was a winner

The music committee of the Georgetown Choral Society really backed a winner this spring with its choice of music. The walls of Knox Presbyterian Church positively rang with the melodies of old English folk songs, the waltz from Der Fledermaus, love songs and selections by Johannes Brahms.

Dale Wood was his usual talented self and gave the audience "carte blanche" to sit close, to cuddle, and even to dance in the aisles if so inclined.

The first half of the program ended with the very stirring "Tales of the Vienna Forest" by Johann Struass, leaving the audience with a sense of an even more melodious second half to come. In this event they were not disappointed; the choir, apparently enjoying itself, went on to sing Golden Slumbers, The Dashing White Sergeant and many other tuneful ditties before finishing with Andrew Lloyd Weber's Love Changes Everything from Aspects of Love.

After all is said and done, you should have been there.

MASTECTOMY SERVICES

I would like to take the opportunity to acquaint you with myself, Mrs. Dianne Gamble of Dianne's Mastectomy. It is with considerable pride that I can say that since 1985 I have been part of the Home Health Care System devoting my attention to the very personal needs of those women who have had a mastectomy or who have physical reasons to require a breast prosthesis. My facility is tastefully decorated for complete comfort and privacy. I work closely with the Canadian Cancer Society, local doctors, and I am a certified fitter registered with the Assistive Devices Program. I carry a wide variety of in-stock breast prostheses, surgical and mastectomy bras. I see my customers by appointment so that I am able to provide individual, personal attention. If you have any questions about breast prostheses (or related apparel) for yourself or someone you know, please feel free to call and allow me to be of service to you at 454-5710 (business) or fax (905) 454-3699.
