Chamber holds AGM tomorrow

Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce holds its annual general meeting tomorrow evening (Sept. 24) at Communications and Power Industries (CPI), at 45 River Dr., Georgetown.

A wine and cheese reception, courtesy of An Elegant Affair Catering, begins at 5:30 p.m. CPI will be offering company tours as well. The business meeting starts at 6 p.m. sharp and includes the approval of last year's annual meeting minutes, the 1997-98 President's report, the Treasurer's report, committee activity reports, recognition of honorary members, and election of directors to the board. Five vacancies still exist for the 1998-99 board of directors. Contact Executive Director Anne Sidebottom, 877-7119 for nomination details.

Merchants help kids to see better

Georgetown merchants supported the LensCrafters Foundation's Vision Van which visited Toronto recently.

The Vision Van is a complete eye care facility on wheels, traveling across North America to give free eye examinations and glasses to children. Underprivileged children from schools in Toronto and neighboring towns such as Halton Hills, were invited to participate.

Georgetown merchants who helped supported Lenscrafters' efforts: Zellers donated toys for each child seen at the Vision Van; and Georgetown Deli donated ham and cheese sandwiches for all the volunteers.

Delrex Smoke Shop and The Travel hut donated $50 each to help buy lunches for the children.

Loblaws and A&P donated gift certificates to help with snacks and lunches for the children and Georgetown Fruit Market and Prestons donated fruit juices and soft drinks for the children.

PANIC ATTACK OR OPPORTUNITY?

Words can be used to incite panic and anxiety as well as soothe and ease our fears. These are some of the words and phrases you may have heard over the last few months: Market Meltdown, Crash, Over the Abyss, Devastatos Stocks, Lowest Level in History etc. It sounds like the end of the world is at hand. Yet, if we turn off the radio and t.v. and ignore the flowery language, there opens up the possibility for logical, rational thought.

What is happening in the markets of the world today has been evolving for a very long time. It is part of the overall cycle. Cycles have expected peaks and troughs into infinity. This time is no different. Will you take part in the opportunities to come? Volatility in the financial markets can be the catalyst to reviewing your overall financial plan to see how you can benefit from today's turmoil. Those people who have set up a Systematic Purchase Plan for their mutual funds are cheering, not shaking with fear. They know they will be able to purchase more units for the same dollars. When the markets cycle upward again, they will have the advantage of being in the markets and not trying to guess when it would be a good time to invest. They are free to ignore the dramatic headlines and can focus on living their lives and sleeping well at night.

It is a known fact that what goes up will also come down. In the financial marketplaces of the world, it is logical to assume that what has gone down must eventually go back up; we just don't know exactly when. By keeping with your programme, you don't panic and will not miss the opportunity knock. What a soothing thought.
