Man killed, friend charged

Dean said Wilson, who is originally from Etobicoke, had been in Georgetown for five years and he and his wife were married for almost two years.

"He was quite a family guy," said Dean. "He and my daughter were really well-matched," said Dean.

"It wasn't like really having a son-in-law, he was more like a son," said Dean.

Dean said his son-in-law, who worked as a salesman for a Mississauga packaging company, was a pitcher in an international fastball league. He recently played for an Alberta team in the Canadian Fastpitch League and a California team in the U.S. championships. He also played hockey in the over-30 league in Georgetown, and enjoyed golf.

Dean said Wilson and his daughter were planning a trip to Australia this winter.

Funeral services were held for Wilson yesterday (Tuesday).
