Communications & Power Industries Canada Inc. (formerly Varian Electron Devices) is an ISO 9001 registered major developer and supplier of microwave devices for satellite communications, TV, and radar as well as power supplies and computerized x-ray generators for medical diagnostics applications. We are seeking top caliber individuals in manufacturing and quality assurance...

Manufacturing Engineer
In-depth experience in an electronics manufacturing environment is required with familiarity with the requirements of ISO, FDA, and MDD desirable. As the successful candidate, you will be an Electrical Engineer or Senior Technician. Specific responsibilities will include the development and improvement of production methods and facilities, specification and design of test equipment, maintenance and enhancement of product documentation, and cost reduction activities. You will also work closely with Design Engineering on all aspects of new product introduction into manufacturing. Familiarity with x-ray generators or modern digital imaging systems would be a definite asset.

Quality Assurance Auditor
As a member of our Quality Assurance team, you will coordinate certain activities of our quality system. Specific responsibilities will include conducting system, product, and special audits of our processes, liaising with DND QA representatives, administering the calibration function, coordinating activities of the customer complaint system, and performing QA responsibilities with regard to customer-owned materials. You should be a member of the American Society of Quality and enrolled in a CQA or CQE program or equivalent, with several years of auditing experience and ISO 9001 quality system auditing training. Experience with MIL standards and DND requirements are desirable.

We provide a competitive compensation and benefits program including an in-house fitness facility. We value all applicants, however only those selected for interviews will be contacted. Please mail, fax or e-mail your response, to:
