Bruce Trail volunteers rebuild boardwalk in Limehouse section

Local members of the Bruce Trail Association (right) gathered recently to complete the reconstruction of a long section of boardwalk along the Bruce Trail, near Sixth Line, north of Limehouse.

Thirty people removed the old, rotten boardwalk and replaced it with a new, raised pressure-treated wood boardwalk. The wood and nails for this project were purchased with a large grant from the Canada Trust Friends of the Environment Fund. The fund provides support for a number of worthwhile environmental programs.

The Bruce Trail Association appreciates the support of the Canada Trust subscribers who support the fund through their contributions and the Georgetown Home Hardware for its co-operation.
