Environment concerns Ashgrove W.I.

Ashgrove Women's Institute met at Hillcrest Church answering the roll call: did you or your family plant a tree in 1998 and what kind? This being the Agricultural Program, we are concerned about our land.

Our speaker, Bryan Boyce of the Town (of Halton Hills) Environmental Advisory Committee (TEAC) was a very enthusiastic speaker on the work being accomplished at Willow Park Ecology Centre.

The need to save our native ecology areas for trees, birds, reptiles, butterflies, animals and ourselves is important. Volunteers are welcome for various tasks to plant trees, remove loosestrife and many other tasks.

Georgetown Seniors Choir were our guests. They sang many Irish songs beautifully.

The ladies that attended Fergus workshop showed crafts they learned to make and others told about what they learned about health.
