Diagnostic imaging department opens

The newly updated diagnostic imaging department at Georgetown hospital (part of the Northwest GTA Hospital Corporation) was officially opened with site administrator Don Trant taking his position on the movable table, while technician Debbie Anderson runs the controls. On hand for the opening were (from left) Georgetown Hospital Foundation chair Paul Armstrong, Northwest GTA Hospital board chair Rick Johnson, Chief of Staff

Dr. Tom Dickson, Marcel Trentelman of Phillips Medical, Bill Bevan of ATL Canada Inc. and Northwest GTA Hospital president and CEO Leo Steven. The new facilities now feature state-of-the-art equipment which utilizes digital imaging, which can be electronically transmitted to another hospital campus in the three hospital-corporation should the need arise for a second opinion in diagnosis.
