

Halton Region request Don't flush the toilet

asked not use water or flush toilets between the times indicated on the blue letter hand-delivered to each home.

Robertshaw suggests residents shut off the control valve on their service (located with the water meter) as well as shut off the water softener.

The affected area in Georgetown.

When the workers are finished for the day, residents are advised to turn on the cold water tap in the basement and let the water run until clear. Then residents can use their water. This may create air in the system, and if so, go to the highest point in the home and turn the cold water tap on and let it run until the air is out of the line. According to Robertshaw, there will not be a major problem if a resident accidentally flushes a toilet or turns on a faucet, but it could draw debris or discolored water into the home. Or, he said, worst case, it could possibly jam the home's water system resulting in reduced water flow. If so, Robertshaw suggests residents call the region. If there are problems or questions Halton Region has phone lines set up. During weekdays (8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.), call 878-8113, ext. 7704, 7705 or 7706. After hours calls will be handled by an answering service, and work crews will be dispatched when required.
