May 8 at Halton Region Museum

Blues on the Rocks is back by popular demand

Back by popular demand Halton Museum Foundation presents the second Blues on the Rocks— a Blues night and southern-style dinner.

Join Dennis Gomo, feature entertainer on Saturday, May 8, 6-11 p.m. Gomo, a Guelph-based musician, has been playing to audiences across southern Ontario for more than 15 years. He performs both originals and his own interpretations of cover songs on guitar, harmonica and dobro.

Gomo's first CD, Hiding out in Limbo, co-produced by Jeff Bird (Cowboy Junkies), has been well received and has had some good exposure on both local and national radio.

A new CD, Nipissing, co-produced by Iain McNally (Amanda Marshall), will be released in this spring. It will feature 14 original songs and represents a bit of a departure. The music is less traditional and more experimental, while still retaining an acoustic-roots flavor. There is more of an emphasis on writing, with songs that speak from both a Canadian and universal perspective.

Blues on the Rocks will take place in the Hearth Room of the museum's Alexander Barn. The 120-year-old hand-hewn wooden beams and huge stone fireplace will lend a warm and relaxing atmosphere to the dinner and music.

Proceeds will go to the Halton Museum Foundation for future improvements.

Tickets to this Halton Museum Foundation fund-raising event are just $25 per person. Seating is limited, so call the museum, located in Kelso Conservation Area west of Milton, at (905) 875-2200 ext. 0 to purchase your tickets.

Advanced ticket sales only. Book early to avoid disappointment. Cash bar available.

More information on this and other special events can be found on the museum's Web site: museum.region.halton.on.ca.
