GDHS shows caring spirit

Tharity may begin at home, but it continues at school, as Georgetown District High School (GDGHS) has shown over the past month. From a dunk tank for teachers to dessert buffets and hockey games, students and staff have raised funds for the following worthy causes: Humane Society, Halton Women's Place, Lou Gehrig's disease, and Kosovo relief.

Once again, we were the grateful recipients of our community's generosity: donations for our Silent Auction from local families and businesses, $1,000 for Science 2000 from the Georgetown Legion, and Ford's donation of a new van delivered by Fred's Towing for the auto program.

Saff have been very busy preparing for the many changes to high school program. Teams have attended inservice sessions, then provided information or workshops for the remainder of staff. Key areas of the change are curriculum; assessment, evaluation and reporting; teacher adviser system; and technology.

GDHS is fortunate to have a number of parent and community volunteers assisting with classroom, library and athletic programs. On behalf of all our students, I would like to thank them for their commitment and contributions: Paul Barber, Tom Beer, Bill Coon, Joe Franz, Fred Haines, Kevin Hughes, Fred Kotani, Denise Lent, Debbie Luck, Mary Main, Monica Mastalerz, Gail McGourty, Sandy McKenzie, Al Moore, Scott Pollock, Chris Sargent, Kirk Serjeantson, Gary Southworth, Stew Teetzel, Mike White, Lorraine Willson and Robin Zander.

Recent validations of our students' prowess in their studies were: Grades 9 and 11 GDHS mathematics contest teams stood first in Halton and scored in the top 10 percent of Canada in the recent Waterloo University competitions; GDHS Technological Studies students earned 18 medals in the Halton Skills Olympics. Four will go on to the provincial finals.
