Change in development charges may result in $40 hike in taxes

commercial/industrial development would not pay the full development charge rate of $4.78 per square foot, but would only pay $2.39 per square foot, under this proposed policy.

- Up to a 50 per cent exemption on an expansion to an existing industrial building.

- A commercial exemption on the first 10,000 square feet or 25 per cent of total floor area being expanded, whichever is greater.

- Allowing commercial/industrial development to amortize development charges over a 10-year period with interest at prime.

Regional council, during three meetings in June, will consider this study and its proposed bylaws. All interested persons are also invited to attend the following public meetings and to make representations and/or submit written submissions.

- Administration and Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, June 1, 9:30 a.m.,

- Administration and Finance Committee meeting on Wednesday, June 16, 1:30 p.m.

- Regional council meeting on Wednesday, June 23, 9:30 a.m.

To find out more, the 1998-99 Development Charge Background Study and by-laws can be obtained at the Region of Halton Clerk's Division, at 1151 Bronte Rd. in Oakville, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Anyone wishing to appear as a delegation at any of the public meetings can call Pat Crimmins, Deputy Clerk at (905) 825-6000, ext. 7256.

Schools to review safety procedures

Halton's public board is making efforts to prevent school shootings like recent ones in Littleton, Colorado and Taber, Alberta.

Halton District School Board education director Dusty Papke said such incidents, where students murdered their peers, can lead to copy-cat occurrences or threats.

"We haven't had any recently, but there have been instances where threats have been uttered," he told a recent board meeting. "I've directed all principals to treat threats seriously and to call police, suspend the students and call parents."

Papke said principals have been asked to review their safety policies.

"The board has safe schools policy planning for staff, parents and students," said Papke. "All schools have to develop safe schools policies."

The director said he had a discussion with Halton Regional Police Chief Ean Algar and was assured police will respond quickly to any threat.

Board chair Ethel Gardiner said she had a couple of reasons for raising the topic of school safety.

"With students being murdered in Colorado and out west, the questions are in everyone's mind," she said. "It would be foolish to think this could never happen in Halton."
