Seniors to celebrate at Farm Museum

Calling all Seniors! Indeed, calling people of all ages. In recognition of the United Nations' designation of 1999 as the International Year of Older Persons (IYOP), the Seniors of North Halton are staging a celebration in Milton on June 26. Bring the whole family to the Farm Museum on Tremaine Road between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. and enjoy a day of good clean fun and entertainment.

You will enjoy wagon rides at the Farm Museum, a scavenger hunt, demonstrations of line dancing, T'ai Chi, a magician, clowns, a "tattoo parlour", a Victorian Fashion Show, vendors, fast food outlets, and more. Enjoy afternoon entertainment at the Gambrel Barn starring Billy Meek, musician, comedian and star of stage and television, Kiley Joe Masson recording artist, and Joe McGinley and the Olde Tyme Fiddlers, all under the direction of Master of Ceremonies Marc Curtis. Large banners constructed by grade school children will show how the generations are linked in appreciation and understanding.

Ladies of all ages are encouraged to decorate a parasol/umbrella in a creative and colorful way and the gents similarly to decorate a cap/hat ahead of time and wear them that day for later judging and prizes.

Purchase an advance ticket by June 10 for just $5 and get bus transportation to and from the Farm Museum, free admission to the gate, a delicious box lunch, access to all the entertainment and activities of the day, and a chance to win the grand prize of a trip for two.

Seniors admission to the grounds is free that day but all others who do not purchase advance tickets will pay admission to gate of the Farm Museum and will not be eligible for the box lunch or the major prize draw.

The $5 advance tickets are available at all three Seniors Centres in North Halton. Just phone the Acton Seniors Centre at 853-5951, the Georgetown Seniors Centre at 877-6444, or the Milton Seniors Centre at 875-1681. They will gladly take your order and arrange your bus pickup. Advance tickets are available to all ages.

Need more information? Just phone. Expect an exciting day!
