PILOT BALLOON TO FLY HIGH IN GEORGETOWN FOR CHARITY FUNDRAISING

Toronto, August 30, 1999 - The sky's the limit for Pilot Insurance as it raises funds for local charities in Ontario communities for the third summer in a row. The property and casualty insurance company's eight storey tall hot air balloon will be coming the Georgetown Fall Fair weekend September 11th and 12th, for fundraising and balloon rides.

To give adults and children alike a taste of ballooning, tethered balloon rides will be available on Maple Avenue beside the Civic Centre, on Saturday morning (from approximately 9 to 11 a.m.), weather permitting, and evening (7 - 9 pm), as well as Sunday morning (9 - 11 am). The rides cost $2, with proceeds going to the Georgetown Hospital Foundation.

Georgetown is the fifteenth stop for the Pilot Insurance balloon on its five-month schedule of visits to festivals, fairs and special events throughout southern Ontario.

In addition, two lucky draw winners will experience an exciting sunrise or sunset balloon flight for two. Ballot boxes for the draw, to be held Friday September 10th, are located at Paul C. Armstrong Insurance on Mill St., at Shoppers Drug Mart, and at the Georgetown Mall, starting September 4th.

"The heart of our business is in rural Ontario through independent brokers, and this initiative provides an opportunity for us and our brokers to support many worthwhile community based charitable causes," said Stuart Kistruck, President and C.E.O. of Pilot Insurance. "Hot air balloons are an exciting novelty that will provide hundreds of adults and children with an unforgettable experience."

The balloon is scheduled to visit over 20 communities on its summer '99 tour of southern Ontario.
