Members of local running group to tackle Newfoundland marathon

While thousands of Canadians will take part in the Terry Fox Run on Sunday, a group of local runners will be setting off not too far from where the Marathon of Hope began.

Seven members of the Georgetown Runners will be participating in the Newfoundland Provincial Marathon in St. John's. The 40 members of the club are regulars at the local Terry Fox Runs but Doris Biron, Jim Clarke, Kristy Elmslie, Stephen Garland, Jon Lynne-Davies, Colin Royce Georgetown and Cheryl Strathcan of Norval will instead be taking part in the 42.6km marathon this year.

Besides the Terry Fox connection, there are other reasons this marathon is attractive for the runners. The time of year is ideal for long distance runners because of the cooler temperatures. Also, some of the runners are attempting to post times that will qualify them for the 2000 Boston Marathon.

The race reflects the club itself. While some are going with competitive goals in mind others are just participating to challenge themselves. Garland is one of those. He hopes to finish the race in under four hours.

He said the club is a good way to stay in shape and isn't for competitive runners only.

"We have some members who have never been in a race," he said. "They just do it for the enjoyment."

The club meets every Sunday at 9 a.m. at Georgetown District High School. They run anywhere from five to 21 km. For more information about the club contact Wally Fenske at 877-7163 or Julie Ratcliffe at 873-8259.
