Red Ribbon campaign now under way

The 1999 Red Ribbon Campaign by Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) Halton kicked off Wednesday.

The campaign is a reminder not to drink and drive during the holiday season, during which time infractions are especially prevalent.

To get the word out, 2,000 volunteers will distribute red ribbons between Nov. 3 and Jan. 2000 in local shopping malls and grocery stores. The ribbons can be tied to vehicle antennas or outside rear-view mirrors to show that you support safe and sober driving all through the year.

Red Ribbon coin boxes will also be distributed to many business locations to give people the opportunity to make a donation and take a ribbon.

The statistics involving drunk driving are staggering: 4.5 Canadians are killed and more than 125 are injured daily in alcohol-related crashes. In addition, the direct and indirect costs of alcohol-related crashes are estimated to be close to $8 billion annually.

Approximately 40 per cent of all traffic fatalities are alcohol-related and it is estimated that one in eight drivers on weekends are impaired. More than 80,000 charges of impaired driving are laid each year.
