

Branch 120 Legion Ladies color party will march

Do not forget the Remembrance Day Parades on Sunday, Nov. 7. Form up in Glen Williams at noon, and at the legion at 2 p.m. Ladies Color Party will be at both parades.

The Georgetown Branch 120 Legion Ladies Auxiliary held Open Darts last month. Eleven teams competed and the team captained by Chris Scut came in first, and Wayne Sheppard's team finished in second place. Another Open Darts' Night is planned, and as soon as the date becomes available, we will pass it on to you. This is a fund-raiser for the Auxiliary so ladies, sharpen up your darts and enter a team. Let's show these guys how it's done.

Two teams represented Georgetown in Zone Bowling held in Acton. Acton came in first and second. Our ladies did not place but still had a lot of fun. Sheila Hicks won the 50/50 draw. One of our teams qualified for District Euchre in Hamilton, but will not be going on to provincials. Niagara Falls finished in first place. Zone Crib will be played in Brampton on Nov. 13, and Zone Darts in Bramalea on Nov. 27.

At our last meeting an application for membership was received from Pauline Allen. A donation was approved for the Arthritis Society. Thank you notes were received from the Ireland and Given families and Marg Hodder.

Approximately 45 Sunnybrook veterans visited the branch on Oct. 24. Linda Armstrong and her helpers provided a delicious lunch and Liz McNeilly and her committee made sure everyone enjoyed the day. Kent Tocher supplied the music and the Ladies Auxiliary supplied the bingo. All and all it was a great afternoon. Thanks to Harry Archer and the gentleman of the branch for their help.

Our annual bazaar will be held on Nov. 20. Doors open at 11 a.m. There will be baked goods, as well as a silent auction. Come start your Christmas shopping. Meet your friends and have a homemade lunch in our tea room. Grand prize is a $200 gift certificate for Georgetown Marketplace.

Next meeting will be on Nov. 18. Don't forget your donation to the food hamper.

New members at Branch 197

Acton Legion Branch 197 Ladies Auxiliary members are reminded the Remembrance Day Parade is Sunday, Nov. 7. Meet at the Acton Post Office at 10:15 a.m. You do not have to have a uniform to parade. Let's have a good turnout.

At the recent meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary there were 34 members present. The 50/50 draw was won by Karen McGill. Jayda-Lynne Theriault and Margaret Ryan were accepted as new members and will be initiated at this month's meeting. Donations were made to the Acton Firefighters Santa Claus Parade and Acton Agricultural Society Building Fund.

Just a reminder dues are payable to the secretary and members should attend a meeting to pay their dues. If you're unable to attend a meeting, contact the Secretary (Peggy Harris, 853 3672) and make other arrangements.

Contact Joyce Buchanan and Fern Shultis if you would like to help with banquets; we're always looking for volunteers.
